PLEASE NOTE: The Baldwin Theatre has been rented on Thursday, March 20th, to the Royal Oak High School for presentation of their play, "The Bells of Beaujolais."

evening. In the first place, the staff herself is associated with pieces that have had the most meticulous presentation and, for another, the co-sponsor of her new vehicle that the Charles Frohman Company, the organization responsible for one of the most superb productions, "The Swan," is from a Hungarian source, though this time by the author, a young and contemporary called Ernest Vajda, whose name already means much on the Continent, and whose "The Magicians" is shortly to be done in New York by the Theatre Guild. Vajda's comedy, which was recently seen in Budapest with Lili Darvas, the great Hungarian idol, in the role now to be essayed in Detroit by Ina Claire, has been adapted by Guy Bolton, himself an American playwright who needs no introduction to our readers. The presentation is in collaboration with Lee Shubert.
From New York have it that the rehearsals of Miss Claire's new comedy have moved fast and furiously and promise another sensational winner. The play's story deals with an ultra-modern set in Paris and finds a world-famous divorce-lawyer, himself in the throes of trouble with his lovely wife, in an amusing situation which unfolds, it is said, with great novelty and interest.

"The Green Goddess," Main Film Attraction at the Baldwin Theatre Royal Oak, Next Week

Buster Keaton in "Our Hospitality" and supreme acts of vaudeville will be shown at the popular Baldwin Theatre, for the last time tonight and tomorrow with a special matinee for the children tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

On Sunday only, March 16, Helen Holmes and J. P. McGowan will be featured in "Stormy Seas," together with a special 5 act vaudeville bill, booked for this day only.

For the first three days of next week, March 17, 18 and 19, George Arliss, Harry Morey, David Powell and Alice Joyce will be seen in "The Green Goddess," a spectacular 10 reel motion picture drama of India. A surrounding cast of over 2,000 people and the principals in putting over one of the season's biggest and best dramatic hits. Owing to the extreme length of this attraction it will be necessary to eliminate the regular vaudeville program this three days but in its place the management of the theatre will present a special prologue to the picture entitled "In the Temple of the Rajah of Rukh." Several well known people will impersonate the various characters. Those in the cast are Thelma Leroy, well-known to Birmingham people as a singer and whistler; Mile. Murrah of Detroit, a noted Oriental dancer; and Mr. George Allen who will impersonate the Rajah of Rukh. A special 12 piece orchestra will render the musical score. Two complete shows will be given each evening during the run of this attraction.

On Friday and Saturday of next week "Half-a-Dollar Bill" will be the motion picture attraction with an excellent program of five high-class vaudeville acts as an added feature. Patrons of the Baldwin will please notice that the above program runs on Friday and Saturday only as the theatre has been rented to the Royal Oak High School on Thursday night for the presentation of their musical play, "The Bells of Beaujolais."

At the Royal Theatre, Royal Oak

Social standing based on money is humorously attacked in "Painted People," Colleen Moore's current starring First National picture, which will head the program at the Royal Theatre, Royal Oak, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Every town has two sets, and the laughable efforts of one to break into the other is the theme of this delightful comedy-drama.

In the making of "Her Temporary Husband," the film comedy coming next Wednesday and Thursday, Long Beach, California, donated its fire department, its police department, letter carriers and city government officers to appear in the big exterior scenes. Members of thirty-one civic and fraternal organizations also helped.

Ina Claire in "Grounds For Divorce" At the Garrick

A production of luxe can reasonably be looked for in the forthcoming appearance of Ina Claire in "Grounds For Divorce," the attraction announced at the Garrick theatre for one week beginning next Sunday

Increasing the Value of Telephone Service

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company always is building—always expanding its service in order to efficiently serve the growing needs of Michigan.

Last year the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's expansion was one of the greatest in Michigan's telephone history—and that program is being continued.

108,984 miles of new telephone wires were installed during 1923; 98,501 miles to give additional local service; 10,483 miles of toll and long distance wires.

1,110,369 miles of wire now connect the telephones of this Company's subscribers.

96,805 new telephones were connected with the switchboards of this Company, for a net gain of 36,117, during 1923; 49,686 were added through the purchase of another company, both factors greatly increasing the value of the service to every telephone user in Michigan.

More than 437,000 telephones served by this Company over its own switchboards; its connecting companies in Michigan serve 112,049 more; 14,000,000 others can be reached elsewhere in the country. $10,320,380 represents the total increase of telephone plant made by this Company in Michigan last year.

And an organization of 10,279 local telephone workers now serves Michigan. It is their unanimous desire to give the people of our state the highest possible grade of telephone service.
