BALDWIN BEACON (Continued from Page 7) they are especially well adapted physically. On these grounds we recommend fellows with great physical and mental vitality, who are lavish in their expenditures of the former; but least to part with any part of the latter. Tall men are an asset because of the greater surface upon which their mates and opponents may dribble the ball. Slender persons have a distinct advantage in the much larger number of angles and protrusions of which they may, when the opportunity affords itself, bounce the ball, thus greatly increasing the number of carroms per shot and consequently increase somewhat the score. The referee could easily be displeased with by enclosing the court in a high tennis net and arranging the baskets so that a score was made the ball would roll out through a tube into the hands of a waiting but safe official. This would rout out the evening's enjoyment and give complete satisfaction to those chronically dissatisfied with everything that. The popularity of this division will doubtless increase rapidly. The would immediately go up on the roof and drop it through a hole. The game could be played till all players were "K. O.'d." The player that on his feet when the ball is awarded with a long term scholarship in the convalescent ward of some reputable hospital. After the game the net would be lowered and any irate spectators could settle disputes free for all.

of Royal Oak. Next time they'll be filled in later and, incidentally with greater accuracy. They had the honor of doing the press account but we've got the satisfaction of writing the eulogy. Post-mortems are interesting when you're not reading one as an autobiography. One thing, R. O. have hearts of oak, but the rest is not. The oak extends upward crowding their thinkers with a lot of furniture. Only usually taking nice finish. No Oak trimming will be more popular than ever in Birmingham.

INJUNCTION ON BANK SOUGHT BY MURKIN. CLAIM (Continued from Page One) additional cost to carry this to a conclusion and thereby decide this important legal point. (Signed) T. W. Harris, Jas. Campbell, W. W. Miner. Please publish the following advertisement which was obtained by Mr. McKinstry at the office of the Birmingham Post-Dispatch, Mich. April 12, 1922. Mr. J. Harry McKinnon, President Village of Birmingham, Dear Sir: I am writing you in connection with your request for an opinion as to the validity of the resolution of the General Law of Birmingham, to D. B. Wilkinson for $395.25; to Crane & Co. for $434.51; and to the Sharrsville Ice and Cold Storage Company, for $6548.09. I beg to advise, that upon investigation, I find that the Village of Birmingham is operating under the so-called "Home Rule Charter," adopted in pursuance of the provisions of the General Law of this State, commonly known as the "Home Rule Act," and this Charter was for an express purpose to give the Village of Birmingham the right of self-government.

held and the bond issue defeated. The Commission recognized that fact in their proceedings at a meeting held June 24th, 1921. It then appears that July 5, 1921, at a meeting of the Commission the following resolution was presented and adopted: "The Commission desired the present condition of the water supply case of emergency and under the provisions of the Charter to take any action necessary to avoid fire, flood and other calamities." Thereafter the Commission ordered the Post Company to furnish the Village with a steeltank of 300,000 gallons, according to specifications on file in the Village office.

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 27, was played the second game with Royal Oak on their own floor. If crowds have anything to do with winning then there wasn't the least doubt of Birmingham's victory. In spite of the fact that it was a school night and the week of five weeks exams, the audience was made up of students and townspeople from Birmingham. During the first quarter, everyone was more or less excited and at the end of the quarter the score was 8-5 in Birmingham's favor. As the game progressed the score sagged high and ended with Birmingham once more victorious with a score of 29-13. The line-up: R. O. H. S. S. R. F. Morrison Pote L. F. Hirt Rudney C. C. Grego Cook R. C. Speer Langerman R. G. Hartwick Haack L. G. Freeman Taylor B. H. S. S. 29; R. O. H. S. S. 13. Subs: Groves for Rainey, Langerman for Miller, Millr for Langerman, Ross for Taylor, Code for Haack, R. O. Hise for Morrison, Henning for Hartwick. B. H. S. Downs Royal Oak 22-11 Woodman scored that tree; Touched not a single bow; But along came B. H. S. And the oak fell anyhow. Recently there appeared on the school bulletin board an obituary to B. H. S. on occasion of their invasion of the village. The resolution states that under the Charter, the Commission was allowed to take any action necessary to avoid fire, flood and other calamities. The Charter contains no such provisions. The resolution states that in case of fire, flood or other calamity requiring an emergency and a relief of the inhabitants of the Village, etc., the Commission is authorized to take any action necessary to avoid fire, flood or other calamity which may be necessary to protect the property of the Village and its inhabitants.
