Royal Oak Scandals of 1924 at the Baldwin Next Mon.-Tues.-Wed.
The "Royal Oak Scandals of 1924" with a cast of well known Royal Oak artists will top the bill at the Baldwin Theatre for three days, starting next week Monday, June 2nd. The local production has caused a great deal of comment in this vicinity even during rehearsal and now that production is ready for its initial presentation, the public are anxiously waiting for the first performance. "Royal Oak Scandals" has been produced under the competent direction of Mr. George Gould of Detroit. "Royal Oak Scandals" needs no introduction in Detroit as a director as he has produced several of the best known local "Follies" shown down-town. There will be nearly forty local stars in the Royal Oak Scandals. Among them are such well known folks as Bob Moylan, Mrs. LeRoy, B. D. Spinney, Ellen Pillsbury, Jewell, Josephine Morgan, Jean Stancil, Pauline Thomas, Maud Bliss, Carletta Underwood, Mildred Pelton, Virginia Greer, Catherine Carlson, Ethel Mitchell, Gordon Cash, Hannah Frelich, Edna Messier and others. Two full and complete performances will be given nightly during the run of "The Scandals" the first one starting promptly at 6:45 and the second at 9:00 p. m. The Goldwyn production, "The Day of Faith" will be the screen attraction with "The Royal Oak Scandals of 1924".
For the final three days of next week Buster Keaton in his latest feature comedy, "Sherlock, Jr.", will be the attraction together with special 5-act vaudeville program.
Viola Dana in "Don't Doubt Your Husband," will be the feature next Sunday, June 1st, with high class vaudeville as an added attraction. "The Uninvited Guest" and "The Uninvited" will be the features for the last three days this week, with the performance running continuously on Friday, Decoration Day, June 30th.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—
(Little Editorials picked up by the Staff in and around Birmingham.)
Rev. C. M. Thompson of Fardale avenue, "I think George E. Scott deserves the thanks of the entire community for the prompt and thorough manner in which he did the job of collecting the rubbish this year. It is the best job of his kind since I have been a resident of Birmingham."
George H. Mitchell, of Brown street, speaking last Monday: "After thinking about it for a long time I am on my way up to vote on this new school. At first I thought it was an awfully extravagant form of amusement, but since I have been thinking it over I have changed my mind. The expense of the thing is extended over a period of 40 years and most of us won't be here that long anyway. Anyway I surely must have to pay on it for so awfully many years and if they need the school, I am going to vote 'yes'."
M. C. Miller of Smith avenue, Eco City: "While I do not think it is a good idea to keep saying these things, but from the observations I am able to make in my position I can see a definite slump coming in business conditions. Not only have the Ford Motor Company cut their work to five days a week, but it is the attitude of the business men to hoard their money which seems to be general among the men in my department. In my opinion, there is about only one in every twelve men working in Ford's who, despite the large wages, would be able to carry himself and family over any lay off which might last any length of time."
E. C. Huston, of the Huston Hardware Company: "Just now we're selling a great number of shovels and hoes especially. You know it's warming up and people have begun making gardens. With warm days come purchasers for the different garden implements; they wait until they must save them and then flock to me. It seems to be human nature to put off a thing until actually compelled to do it. Next in importance at garden tools come oil stoves. Folks who are fixing up summer cottages or going camping are our heaviest customers."
C. K. Bird of Boughner Bros. Garage: "Accidents increase as the temperature goes up. With the opening of the season more cars are put on the road, more people park vehicles and all congestion results. In fact, much of our business comes from the repair of smashed cars which have to be towed in. Some trade also comes from old car drivers who are just taking the 'old haul' from their winter quarters and feel that the valves must be ground, carburetor cleaned out and the motor in general 'tuned up'. Well, that's all right, too, but when this has been done they start out on a long ride and the tires—a part of the car they haven't thought about—give way when they're 40 miles from home."
Harry S. Starr, village manager: "I believe that the 1924 assessment roll for Birmingham is the best one ever made out. It corrects a great many mistakes and tends to put everybody on an equal basis. It works no hardship on anybody and should promote better feeling in the village."

Miner Spencer, of Townsend street: "I am not in favor of allowing local residents to slip away with their violations, while the Police never let an outsider slip through with violations. It appears as though good way to enforce ordinances would be to make them enforceable first at home—thus setting an example to outsiders."
Willey Bell, village commissioner: "I most heartily favor the keeping of all Birmingham's dogs tied up at home. I had a personal experience with my own dog. Although he bit nobody, and we kept him at home he began to act queerly. He got so bad that I called in Doc Ballock and Doc had to kill him. The head was sent to Ann Arbor for investigation, and it was found the dog had rabies. This is just an example of what may happen to any dog now, even though it is given the best of care. I believe that the life of one Birmingham child is worth all the dogs in the world, and am in favor of using the utmost precautions to guard against rabies."
Charles J. Shain, village president: "Many people complain of the condition of dirt streets in Birmingham. I think that the present village commissioner had made itself perfectly plain when it offers to correct bad streets by offering to pay one-half of the cost of installing curbs and gutters on them, as will be done with Piers and Frank streets. It is a physical impossibility to keep our dirt streets in good shape without something of the kind of nature done for them. Certainly we want good streets in town, but the people must be willing to pay the cost of making them so."
