B-HAM WINS ON PECK'S SLIPS

In an interesting battle Friday, B-Ham defeated Peck's wild team and submerged the Trees, 6-2. It was a hard game, the Maroons gaining but five safe blows, two of which were made by Lefty Schorr; but they mixed these seven bases on balls and some class base running and managed to ferry six men over the plate.

Little can be said in praise of the local team as it was a patchy day for them, full of ups and downs. Mungor pitched winning ball, scattering the opposition's hits well and bearing down only with men on bases. He believes in using his head instead of trying for a strike-out record. Our hitting must improve. We are confident our fielding will improve. I can excuse physical errors, Ty Cobb says, "but not the mental kind."

JUNIOR WASHINGTON GROUP

Among the many events scheduled for May, is that of the Junior Washington Group who will present the "May Musical Revue" in the Baldwin auditorium on May 14.

The Juniors have been at work on their revue for several weeks and have been fortunate in securing outside talent to help them in presenting one of the most pleasing entertainments of the school year. Among them is an Italian interpreter who comes to us from Detroit and who will present some very interesting readings in costume. Besides the reading, there will be several musical numbers supplied by Joe Kriew of Pontiac, two people from the Detroit conservatory of music, a jazz orchestra from Pontiac, the Baldwin Oracles, and another jazz orchestra composed entirely of girls.

BIRMINGHAM LOSES TO PONTIAC BY SCORE OF 20 TO 6

In a loosely played game Friday featuring everything but heads up baseball, Pontiac walloped Birmingham 20 to 6. The regulation game was entirely unnecessary as the contest was seen at an early period. The field leaked badly, and the whole team fielded lacked the necessary punch and snappy position of former times. Schorr and Bray led the hitters, each scoring twice. Until these misers stop, winning is impossible. The game with Pontiac in no way affects the S. E. A. A. standing, as "Pontiac" is a class A school.

CAUGHT AT PLATE

Donations to Royal Oak Athletic Association will be appreciated by everyone concerned. Both the shortage of baseballs and shortage of workers to prepare the diamond. Lefty Schorr started ceremonies by lifting a fly to left. Mungor got two Gacs in order in the first verse by throwing out two of them himself. The crash was terrific when Stan Hunt's batting average dropped. Latham robbed Lapham of a hit in the 5th, making a pretty running catch of his looping fly to center. The mighty Peck issued free transportation to no less than seven Maroons. His generosity proved fatal. Does anybody know where Hunt was just before he walked and stole all the way around in the 8th? Pinch hitters were pinched Friday. Three were used at the same number swung nine times without damage. Bailey and Grooms had a tough day making five errors between them. Stab led by the majority. Peck's wiliness was Birmingham's greatest asset. B. H. S. scored six runs on five hits. Birmingham leads the Southeastern Athletic Association. Let's go, folks!

RACING CHAMPION DRIVING OAKLAND

Selects Pontiac Car After Thorough Tests

Eddie Hearne, officially enthroned "speed king" of 1923 by the American Automobile Association for winning the greatest number of points in races under the auspices of this organization during last year, already has arrived in Indianapolis in preparation for the great American 500 mile racing classic held there each Memorial Day.

During Mr. and Mrs. Hearne's stay in Indianapolis they are using a 1924 Oakland touring car and expressing enthusiasm over its performance. Eddie understands the mechanism of a car probably as well as any man in America and his wife has a well-trained conception of how comfortable a car should be, and they're both satisfied.

MOTHER.

The eleventh of May, is Mother's day. How happy it makes us all. To set aside a day for her. Whom we know is queen of all. Those who have their Mothers with them. Constantly day by day. Do not know the sorrow. Of those whose Mothers have passed away. But oh, my brothers and sisters. If you have sorrows of any kind. And have no Mother to go to. Just come to that Mother of mine. And I know she will love and advise you. As she does me all of the time. So that peace will settle upon you. After looking in that face so kind. And Mother is not only Mother; she. But is Mother to all the world. Whenever anyone needs her. Whenever any flag is unfurled.

Mother is always ready To hear all of my woes, And wherever I am sick or blue, Home to Mother I go. —Mrs. C. Blair.
