PACKARD

Never has a fine car enjoyed such popularity and such a wide circle of ownership, as the Packard-Six.

The reason, of course, is that motor car owners, who had before its advent confined themselves to lesser cars, have learned that it actually costs them less to own a Packard.

A brute for strengthwhere strength is vital. As finely built as the finest car-where close measurements are called for.

A car that in all important parts is unsurpassed in any class—a car that is stronger and sturdier in proportion to weight and power than cars costing two and three times its price-that is the good Maxwell, and that is why the Maxwell is so unusually good.

It gives economical, carefree service, with easy riding and easy handling, which cannot be equalled at anywhere near its price.
