Three Local Men Tell Why They'll Vote Three Ways

FOR COOLIDGE James Cobb, Birmingham postmaster, in an interview with The Centric, gave some reasons for voting for Coolidge. "I believe it is generally conceded that at this time the contest lies between President Coolidge and the element as represented by LaFollette. No one seriously believes that Mr. Davis has any chance of election unless there is a marked change before November 4."

Mrs. Wylie Groves Describes The Conditions In The Emerald Isle

In the fall season when travellers are returning to their homes, we hear much of visits to France and Germany and England. But Ireland seems to be one of those countries that has been forgotten. Perhaps travellers are frightened away by the reports of revolutions and other inconveniences. Any- way, it was with special interest that the Centric reporter went to interview Mrs. Wylie Groves who has spent three months in Belfast this summer, visiting her parents.

FOR DAVIS

George H. Mitchell of Pleasant Grove, Ala., writes to the Centric that he is the best of everything to the common people. "Democracy, as it is commonly understood, is the government of the common people. I am one of them, and of course may seek aid of the government in my own way."

"Turn'N' And Stroll In Woods"

By DOROTHY PALMER Instead of going window shopping in Detroit, or to a bridge, or a movie, as your taste may lead you, why not stroll in the woods and enjoy the beauties of nature? There is plenty to satisfy you, if you will, in the woods and fields of our city. The woods are so near that you can stroll in them at any time.
