entertainers on the program for this year's Lecture Course and at present have succeeded in arranging for four good numbers and have tentative plans for the remaining numbers. Those who have been secured to date are Dr. Frank Cookson of Bay City, Dr. Russell Bready of Detroit, Lawrence C. Abbott who will come from the Lyceum Bureau, and an evening's program by musicians from the Detroit Conservatory of Music.

The exact date for the first number has not been decided but will come during the latter part of November. Mrs. William J. Spicer is in direct charge of the sale of tickets.

THE COVERED WAGON FEATURE MOVIE, TO BE SHOWN DECEMBER 5-6

Probably one of the biggest things that has come to Franklin in many years in the line of entertainments will be the motion picture, "The Covered Wagon", to be given here for two evenings, December 5 and 6. This picture, while it will be one of the series that appears during the winter, will be most unusual for Franklin. Warren, Kerrigan and Lois Wilson play the leading roles and the picture has been shown at some of the largest playhouses in the country.

Like other pictures in the series, this movie will be given in the church, and because the church seats one hundred and fifty, with the use of the annex, it will be shown two nights.

"The City of Silent Men" was the motion picture given in the church last Saturday evening. The next picture to be given will be "The Stranger" on November 22.

ORCHARD GRASS FIRE THREATENS VILLAGE

A fire, which started in the dry grass in the Charlie Berger orchard last Saturday afternoon, threatened the entire village of Franklin if it were not extinguished by the diligence of an energetic "broom and bucket brigade." Franklin's fire department moved useless in fighting the fire with no way of bringing any great quantity of water. When the blaze seemed to threaten the village, the Birmingham fire department was called that they might use their hose to draw water from the creek, but before they could arrive the fire was brought within control.

The Birmingham fire department made the run from Birmingham to Franklin in 48 minutes.

NEW GOLF CLUB STARTED

The Redford Golf Club that had had their club house and grounds in Southfield have sold their property there and have purchased approximately 175 acres of the farm of Elmer and Aaron High on Maple Road. For the past few weeks they have kept a large number of workmen busy on the grounds and the new golf course is being rapidly completed. There will be no club house built on the property until spring.

GOLDEN RULE SOCIETY

At the home of Mrs. Alfred Currin the Golden Rule Society held a meeting last Friday afternoon. The meeting took the form of a social gathering with a report made on the sale of the Larkin products, handled by the society. The society is composed of the teachers and members of the adult class in the Sunday school.

Emmer Nichols' elder mill on the North hill was closed practically all of last week after some of the machinery broke down. The men repaired the damage but the machine broke again and was not until last Saturday that they were able to start work again.

Miss M. Ruediger has spent the past week at the Noble District School where she has been teaching for one of the teachers who has been 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. August Brening of Harbor Beach arrived the early part of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Facer, where they spent several days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spicer returned the early part of the week from

Ladies' Auxiliary Met On Wednesday

One of the most successful meetings of the Ladies' Auxiliary held in recent years was enjoyed Wednesday last week at the home of Mrs. Joseph Gravin in Farmington. The guests started about ten o'clock in the morning by motor and arrived in time for luncheon. Following the luncheon the women held their final business meeting of this year, as this society functions entirely during the summer months. Differing from the custom of former years, the Auxiliary will not have a Thanksgiving dinner this year. Members have agreed to give one dollar to the treasury and thus eliminate all of the work that goes with the serving of a large dinner.

Old Mill Re-Opens For Cider Business

The second cider mill has opened up in Franklin for a period of two and one-half months. The old mill that the Franklin folk considered was permanently closed, opened two weeks ago on Saturday, and is preparing for a busy cider season.

The cider mill is in the old building put up many years ago by Governor Warner as a cheese factory, and for the past five years has been operated by William J. Tynan of Detroit as a cider mill. While the

Parents-Teachers Give Social Tonight

Although the teachers are members of the Parent-Teacher Association, they are acting as individuals apart from the association in the work for the social tonight which is being given by the teachers and the P. T. A. From all indications the social, which is to be in the schoolhouse, is to be one of the most interesting affairs this fall.

The Parent-Teacher Association and the teachers have made arrangements to have the proceeds in case the teachers want to make some special purchases for the school not considered by the P. T. A. A cafeteria supper will open the social, tonight, and a large attendance has been arranged for.

Reception Is Held For Rev. Pritchard

A reception for Rev. and Mrs. Pritchard was given Thursday evening of last week at the Southfield Church. A splendid program entertained the guests, who numbered about seventy-five, followed by games and refreshments. Like Rev. Carley, Rev.
