ture of the modern times, "Wine of Youth" will also be shown in connection with the above feature. For next Sunday only, April 12th, the Al Christie super-comedy feature, "Reckless Romance" will be the principal film feature. This is a fast and thrilling feature length comedy that will long be remembered as one of the season's biggest and best attractions. A special Vaudeville bill has also been booked in for this day only to be shown with this feature. The performance will run continuous on Sunday from 2:30 in the afternoon until 11 p. m. at night.

"Wine of Youth" is a modern jazz dapper story and a great Vaudeville bill are the attractions of the final three days of this feature. The performance will run continuous on Sunday from 2:30 in the afternoon until 11 p. m. at night.

"HIGH STAKES" OFFERED NEXT WEEK BY BONSTELLE COMPANY
"High Stakes," the Willard Mack play of thrills, laughter and surprises, will be the offering of the Bonstelle Company at the Bonstelle Playhouse, starting Monday night, April 13th. This interesting play, written in Mr. Mack's best style, scored at the Garrick a few weeks ago with Lowell Sherman playing the leading role. It is the story of a man of wealth who finally meets a young girl and falls in love with her. The play shows the early days of their married life, which is apparently ideal, and the young wife catering to every whim of her aged husband and demanding love and caresses. Joe Lennon, the perfect-well younger brother, seems something colorful and doubts the young wife. He sets about to uncover a sinister purpose behind her marriage to his brother, even distrusting the newly-made friend on the part of his brother—Louis De Salda. It will be the spooling good fun, thrilling surprises and sensation to tell the story. Mr. Mack has written at his best, using humor and enigmatical dialog, and showing a keen insight into human natures of various sorts. Marnett Kippen will have one of the best opportunities yet allotted him as Joe among whom Gleda's play will oppose him as Anne Corwall, the secretary; Eleanor Martin will play the young and scheming wife opposite Walter Sherwin as the husband; Richard Lennon; Lester Vail will have the role of Louis De Salda, the blackmailer and Walter Young will be seen as the servant.

WILLIAM HODGE'S "FOR ALL OF US" AT GARRICK THEATRE
William Hodge comes to the Garrick Theatre on Sunday, April 12, for a return engagement. For one week in "For All of Us," his greatest laugh success. His coming here will be welcomed by many friends who learned to know his quaint and humorous delineation of Tom Griswold, the Irish ditch digger, when the play was last seen here. Since that time it also has played an entire season in New York, as well as long engagements in Boston and Philadelphia.

Mr. Hodge has seen as Tom Griswold, a grizzled laborer who has learned all the lessons that humiliation and despair can teach and has at the same time retained his penetrating humor. By chance, he is thrown into the household of a wealthy banker, whose mental and physical welfare have been wrecked along with those of his wife and daughter, by the unhealthy intricacies of an accelerated civilization. Tom's steadfast life and quietly appealing personality unobtrusively win the affections of all three, and his influence straightens out completely the unhappy snarl of their lives.

Mr. Hodge is supported by the following excellent artists: Frank Losee, Charlotte Wynters, Marion Abbott, Frank Barbeck, Courtney White, Lucille Husting, Frank Charleston, J. Warren Lyons, Philip Dunning, and Jane Lamire.
