Now that Wiley Dell has officially unshowered Spring into Birmingham, all that he needs to do is to bring on the warm weather.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-four years ago last Sunday a man was recreated upon earth. His three brief years of stewardship have left an imprint upon the world which has never been even slightly approached by another.

This week we're going to give over the balance of this column to Fred D. Keister, the enterprising editor and publisher of the local County News.

Gardner Presented

$50 Gold Watch For Fire Dept. Services

In appreciation of 12 years of active service in the Birmingham Volunteer Fire Department, Ernest C. Gardner, recently of Merrill street, was given a gold watch by his fellow firefighters at a meeting held in the Fire Hall two weeks ago.

Mr. Gardner was a charter member of the local volunteer department, when it was formed 12 years ago. During most of this time he was assistant chief. He recently sold his Merrill street home and now lives several miles east of Birmingham.

Ernest Gardner was one of the most active and willing members of our department," said Chief Olsen. "Whenever the fire alarm would sound, you could rest assured that Ernie was on the job."

The gold watch presented to Mr. Gardner, valued at $50.00, was paid for by the department. However, doing more than his own share, a commission voted to pay $25.00 toward the cost of the time-piece, as a mark of the village's appreciation of Mr. Gardner's volunteer services.
