Society Women Working For Success Of St. James Church Italian Street Fair Here On September 12th

Society continues on its course of inactivity with a quiet that was only approached by the Ladies' periodical. Only an occasional party of travelers take departure for vacations and the influx of returning vacationists has not yet begun, leaving this "in-between" season. During the next few weeks, the members of the society will be occupying the center of activities during the preparation and preparations for return to school.
