All America Has Taken The Chrysler To Its Heart

The Chrysler Six sells itself every time it exhibits its dashing appearance on road or highway. The contrast between it and other cars is so marked that the desire to own one is bred then and there. But that desire is as nothing compared to the delight induced later on. If its only charm were the charm of appearance, the attraction would soon wear off. But the Chrysler is just as unusually attractive as it looks. One after another it reveals these unusual qualities even before it gets under way. Just to sit in the car and look about reveals first a quality all Americans love—compactness, conservation of space, neatness, artistry and a complete elimination of unnecessary elements. You look up from the cradling comfort of the Chrysler as you pass other cars and almost laugh. You see needless height, needless bulk, needless weight, needless length as you never saw them before. Your motor is as compact as the car itself—a jewelled watch with the busiest, most alert, most effective flow of power you ever experienced. Your whole motoring world is changed for you—delightfully changed, economically changed, efficiently changed. That the American people have taken the Chrysler to their hearts is no surprise at all—it is a very natural, logical thing. They are almost extravagantly enthusiastic about the Chrysler because the Chrysler has shown them delights in motoring they have never known before.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

(Little Editorials picked up by the Staff in and around Birmingham.)

Fred V. Quarton, candidate for township supervisor: "During the past year I believe that more real estate in Birmingham and Bloomfield townships changed hands than at any other equal period in our history. Values have soared skyward, making it necessary, in my opinion, for a careful study of assessed valuations. I believe that planning for this vicinity should be made on the theory that it will someday be practically dotted with homes."

W. Nelson Whittemore of Updyke Road, a florist and authority on plant cultivation: "This spell of warm weather we have had with the rain is very discouraging to people interested in gardens. The plants now in the ground will be forced up by the combination of the warm rain and nice weather, bringing the roots out into the air. It is a fact that our cold weather is not at an end and when it returns it will freeze the roots so exposed unless they are pushed back into the ground. Those that do not die from the freezing are ruined this year from exposure. This extreme warm weather is undesired by the florists at this season."

Mrs. Earl Boyce, of West Maple road: "Hill school teachers should know about the way children come down to the creek west of the Water Works after school and loiter around. Last week, a lad in the third o rfourth grade fell in the water and narrowly escaped drowning. A number of times, too, my little daughter and neighbor's children have come home cold and wet and in danger of getting sick, just from stopping at the creek on their way home."

Mrs. Katie Drumm, of West Maple avenue: "The street leading down to Quarton Lake, Roxbury avenue, and the lake, itself, should be kept open for town boys and girls both summer and winter. This property should not be made private, because in some cases this is the only place Birmingham children have to swim and skate."

John J. Gafill, of Southfield avenue: "The closing of Quarton Lake would be a hardship; in fact I scarcely think such measures will be adopted. And, besides, I like to go skating on the Lake, myself."

W. H. Miller, local plumber: "The building outlook for this spring is better than at any time in history. Although there are many homes going up in Birmingham, I believe that there are more building outside in the school district than at any single period in the past. The advantages of living in Bloomfield township are gaining friends from Detroit and other cities."

James Anderson, local chief of Police: "Another month and our department will get out the motorcycles for summer and then the motorists who insist upon speeding through our village had better watch out. There is always a tendency to speeding at this time of the year, because our motorcycle squad cannot patrol the streets during winter. Funny, isn't it, how some people, when they are not closely watched will step on the gas and break the speed laws for safety."

Floyd S. Buck, Justice of the Peace: "What is the matter with the street lights that they remain turned on during the daytime as often as three days a week, some weeks? These lights operate on a flat rate contract now, and it doesn't cost the village any more when they are on a longer or shorter period but it is possible that at the expiration of the present contract this neglect might mean much to the village. Undoubtedly the Edison company will check up and see just what amount of power the village actually used and the rate possibly increased. During the daytime when the lights are left on they can be seen burning clear out Maple avenue, and this requires a great deal of power. I would suggest some check be kept on these lights by the village to assure no more waste than is necessary."

Spanish Senora Is Big Packard Dealer

Languorous Spain, with its indolent, listless life, clicking castanets and sparkling fandangos—that has been the popular conception of the Castilian country. This idea is due for an upset. Especially when one meets the efficient and business-like Senora Louisa Luesma, of Automoviles Packard, Barcelona. Senora Luesma is the Packard distributor for the whole of Spain and probably the only woman in Europe to own an automobile business.

Senora Luesma's very prototype is the enterprising American business woman. She is the absolute, dominating influence in the success of her business. Recently she opened a new school room in Madrid, said to be one of the finest automobile sales and service stations in Spain.

Flying trips to Paris, New York or Detroit to keep informed on the latest developments in the automobile industry are typical of her energy and foresight. The Senora believes strongly in the ability of woman to do things which have hitherto been forbidden her through custom or other restrictions.
