Where the Mistake Is Made

SEVEN storekeepers out of ten—so, surveys show—contend themselves with about enough light to see by; remaining three understand the advantage of having light enough to sell by.

Experience has demonstrated beyond a doubt that sales increase with increase of lighting; and that only increase in quantity but in ease of making. An ill-lighted store—the greater number are ill-lighted—is seriously handicapped.

YOU CAN HAVE THE ADVICE OF A LIGHTING EXPERT WITHOUT CHARGE.
