GLORIA SWANSON IN 'WAGES OF VIRTUE' HEADS BALDWIN PROGRAM NEXT WEEK

Gloria Swanson in her latest Paramount Picture 'Wages of Virtue' heads the picture program at the popular Baldwin theatre next week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 23, 24, 25th. Miss Swanson is fast becoming a prime favorite in this city and in this feature has a role that gives her the same opportunities for comedy as she had in 'Manhandle' and also it gives her a chance to display some new wonderful gowns and to portray as beautiful a love story as she did in 'Her Love Story', which was recently shown here. High-class vaudeville and other features are programmed with the above attraction.

For the final three days of the week, March 26-27-28th, the Alan Crosland production 'Contraband' will be the main screen feature with Lois Wilson, Noah Berry, Raymond Hatton and Ray and Sally in the leading roles. Five acts of standard vaudeville will complete the bill which will be shown twice nightly on Thursday and Friday nights and also on Saturday night with a special matinee on Saturday afternoon starting at 2:30 p. m.

Johnny Hines, the incomparable comedian, will be the soloist on Sunday only, March 22nd in a film version of George M. Cohan's great stage success 'Little Johnny Jones' at the vaudeville and other novelties will complete the bill which will run continuous from 2:30 in the afternoon until 11 p. m. at night.

Eleanor Boardman and a distinguished cast of screen artists headed by the wonderful dog actor 'Peter the Great' will be seen the last three days this week in 'The Silent Accuser', a thrilling mystery story, in which the dog plays the principal part. This attraction is one that will certainly appeal to the children as well as being an attraction that will please the grown-ups. Vaudeville is the added attraction with the above feature. Special mention is made of the popular Saturday matinee for children which starts promptly at 2:30 in the afternoon.

'THE WINGS OF CHANCE' NEXT WEEK AT GARRICK THEATRE

We often ask ourselves these questions: "Where did we come from?" and "what will the end be?" And yet this colorful arena no one can truthfully answer. "Captain Kanaka," one of the principal characters in 'The Wings of Chance', which will be the offering at the Garrick Theatre commencing Sunday night, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday, is himself these questions over and over again. He had been shell-shocked but there was none of his usual brains that functioned anymore. So, when he learned of the plotting of the Queen of Sheba, his brother-in-law, her Devil Devil Doctor, he called his crew together, abducted the "Queen" and started on a perilous trip to an uncharted island. But before he fulfilled his mission he was betrayed by one of his crew and he was once again free to perpetrate his fiendish deeds.

Everyone had forgotten "Kanaka" except Douglas Warren, Commissioner of the British Solomon, who had grown to love him because of his unusual character. Warren had been on the South Sea long enough to know the perils "Captain Kanaka" would encounter in his venturesome trip. But only God knew what "Kanaka" suffered when he found his ship destroyed, his crew lost and he floating around on wreckage praying that he might live long enough to report to the Commissioner.

Adolph Klumber, who has sponsored the professional activities of that great artist Jane Cowell for several years, in presenting 'Wings of Chance,' and he has provided a brilliant array of artists. Among those who appear advantageously in important roles and give characterizations distinctly worthwhile are Paul Hansberry, Mary Blair, Charles Francis, Betty Lindley, Jessie Royce Landis, Harold West, Harry Hamilton, Gordon Hamilton, Sheridan Pelly, Harry R. Allen, John Lewis, Henry Bloomfield, and John Ward.
