Dodge Brothers Re-Elect Haynes

Frederick J. Haynes, president and general manager, and all other executive officers and members of the directorate of Dodge Brothers were re-elected February 17 at the annual meeting of the board.

Records of the annual meeting confirmed previous reports that 1924 was by far the most successful year in Dodge Brothers history. Dodge Brothers were second among N.A.C. members and third in the industry as a whole, both in the number of units produced and in money value.

The year closed with a total production of 225,633 motor vehicles having a total value of nearly $200,000,000. These official figures vary only slightly from the estimates announced during the New York automobile show early in January.

Dodge Brothers showed a 25.4 per cent gain in sales during 1924 in the face of a general decline of 9.4 per cent in the industry.

President Haynes made no comment on the continued progress of Dodge Brothers except to say that the remarkable increase in sales is simply a reflection of the strong public confidence that can be built up by starting out with a good product and then striving ceaselessly and conscientiously to make it better.

Ford Uses Fleece Of 875,000 Sheep

Increasing demand for closed cars among other things, is furnishing the textile industry of the country with a big and annually growing business. The largest user of upholstery materials is the Ford Motor Company and figures which have just been given out by the company not only show how the closed car popularity is growing, but also present an interesting picture of the great quality of cloth used in trimming automobiles.

Another thing, it required the fleece of more than 875,000 sheep to furnish sufficient wool for all this cloth, and an interesting feature in this connection is that within the last two years the price of wool, such as used in Ford upholstery, has more than doubled. However, manufacturing economies effected by other departments permitted the company to each year lower the price of the Ford closed cars to the purchaser.

Indian Monsoons
The heavy rainfall in India is caused by the monsoons or winds blowing part of the year from one direction, alternating with winds from the opposite direction. The southwest monsoon blows from April to September and is surcharged with vapor from the Indian ocean. It condenses in torrents on the heights of the Chats and forms the rivers which flow to the east.

Dromedary and Camel
Dromedary is a name sometimes given to the Arabian or one-humped camel, but properly belonging to a variety of that species distinguished by stenderness of limbs and symmetry of form and by extraordinary feet. Bearing much the same relation to the ordinary camel as a race horse or hunter does to a cart horse.
