March came in like a lion, we wonder if the fellow who originated this saying was a lynx!

If local electors approve the elevated tank proposition next Monday (and we hope they do) we'll have two tanks for water purposes in Birmingham. But that does not mean that anybody can call this village a "tank town."

Now that the winter tax roll has been returned to the county treasurer at Pontiac for collection, all delinquent taxpayers will have a chance to pay one of the worst main streets on earth. We refer to Saginaw street in Pontiac.

Napoleon—the hermit of Heloise—once said: "It takes a thousand men to make a camp, but one woman can make a home." The greatest men who have ever lived all admit that woman is perhaps God's loveliest creation. May womanhood, in its scramble for things that have hitherto been reserved for men, never lose its halo of glory as the world's greatest home builder.

"The female of the species preens herself, while the male merely preys."—George H. Mitchell, Broward street. "I ought to know—I was a local postmaster for many years."

"Birmingham lived within its income during 1924," reports Village Manager Birmingham. That sets a good example for its citizens.

Judging from the number of bathers reported to be in Florida this winter, the old Atlantic ocean must be getting pretty dirty.

Arthur Brisbane prophesies that we'll all be using airplanes in less than twenty years. Judging from the present price, we'll at least agree that the price of gasoline will jump skyward within twenty years. Arthur.

The recent state Republican convention held in Detroit proves several things. One of them is that Governor Crockett is capable of "turning down" his friends; another is that Republicans can scrap as bad among themselves as they can with the Democrats.

"Farmer can smile now; his prices the highest," so declares Dr. David Friday, authority on agricultural affairs. "I'm," says Martin Blunt of Warren, "it's all right to be able to smile but we farmers would like to laugh once in a while—laugh right out loud, too."

Newspapers last week carried the report that half of the United States rocked as the result of some kind of an earth disturbance. Detroit, especially well about it, reporting that tall buildings trembled, pictures fell off the wall, etc., etc. Never felt it at all in Birmingham," says Wylie Bell. "Must have been caused by the widening of Woodward avenue."

Parents, make your boy and girl kindly, tolerant, courteous. If they become that they are on the way to success. To Cuba is a great baseball player— but he can't control his temper. Tyrus will not be recorded in history as long as he is a gentleman.

Ralph Coryell's idea of creating a planning manager for Birmingham township to work with other nearby townships for local community development is a splendid suggestion. Local and nearby people will undoubtedly stand behind such a plan—may Mr. Coryell continue his efforts to make his idea a reality.

Mr. and Mrs. (also Miss) Birmingham, PLEASE don't forget to vote next Monday at the annual village election. It is YOUR town it ought to be used for something else besides a place to sleep in.

Have you figured out how much you should deduct from your income tax to help pay the cost of widening Woodward avenue?

Speaking of Woodward avenue, we ought to expect to help pay for it. But we should be led to believe that they won't—and then have the State of Michigan ask for it.

Schools should have something to offer our children besides teachers and rooms. They should have large country playgrounds. Has our school board forgotten this? Then let's have larger school sites—now, while the land is cheap.

Funny story we live in, isn't it? On January Governor Groves had dismembered the intent of the auto license law, and we were allowed to use the 1924 tag a month longer. Now, with the gasoline tax passed, Secretary of State Deland tells us we'll all go to jail if we don't have 1925 licenses by March 1. If all law breakers were sent to jail, Birmingham isn't the only town that would be citizenless. If Deland ever runs for Governor of Michigan, we'll wager that the primary vote in this community will be Delandless.

Birmingham and nearby parents who are interested in the mentalities of their children owe the Detroit News a debt of gratitude for bringing the National Oratorical Contest on Constitutional Government here. We hope that similar contests will be staged when our own children are old enough to enter high school.

Now that the local village commission has decided to see if Birmingham can legally discontinue water service outside of the town, it is hoped that they go through with it. It will give both sides a chance to try something they never knew before, and will avoid a good deal of future trouble.

The grass ought to be greener than over in Birmingham. This summer Manager Starr says there's lots of water available.

By the way, Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer to Birmingham, do you know that Birmingham's water supply is said to be 98 per cent pure? That's only one reason why the "hole town" attracted you, isn't it?

Only a few weeks now and then we can bank the furnace fires for the summer. Argn't you sort of Much complaint is registered about the European crisis, but, according to some local housewives, it can't compare with the crisis created when the washerwoman fails to show up on Monday mornings.

Public officeholders are, perhaps, subject to more criticism than any other group of individuals—with the possible exception, these days, of bootleggers. If the human race, the whole, was not fairly honest, the old world would certainly have a hard time of it. It is fortunate that there has always been a majority of honest men in our public offices—otherwise the great world would have subdivided the White House grounds long ago.

As we said, a few paragraphs above, PLEASE vote next Monday. When you hear the church bell ring next Monday, it means, "Have you voted today?"

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Circuit Court for the county of Oakland in Chancery, No. 12499.

Niels Hansen, and Sarah C. Hansen, Plaintiffs vs. The Heirs, devisees and assigns of Charles F. D. Comfort, Deceased, John S. Comfort, Isaac C. Comfort, John W. Comfort, Newell J. Comfort, William C. USING dusty and dirty lamp bulbs may add as much as 10 per cent to the amount of your lighting bills—you will use that much more current to get the light you require.

It will pay you in money and eye health—to clean your lamps every month.

Wipe the bulbs with a soft damp cloth. Wash glass or china shades in soap and warm water.

And never use a lamp after it has become blackened by long use. Exchange it promptly for a new lamp, free.
