Village And Hills People Eagerly Await Benefit Performance Here

Probably nothing ever attempted in Birmingham of a similar nature has ever been developed or such an elaborate scale as the Style Show that will occur next Thursday evening as a part of the benefit performance being staged in the Baldwin high school auditorium by the local Rotary Club. Certainly nothing of the kind has ever stimulated such a wide interest and included such an enviable list of patrons and patronesses as will occupy the boxes at the performance.

During the past ten days there has been a keen interest centering about the selection of the models who are to parade as mannequins to display the gowns that are being furnished by the J. L. Hudson Company. It is quite evident that the Style Show is to be as bright a spot on the program as the motion picture, "The Dressmaker from Paris," which it was originally planned would be sufficient in itself to solicit the interest of a splendid audience.

Models Selected.

Mrs. George P. Raynole and Mrs. Charles J. Shain had the selection of the models in their charge. For a fortnight they have been picking and choosing from the various types represented in the Hills and the village by the younger set and the attractive young matrons. Last Wednesday was an interesting day when their selections assembled for the final choice by Miss Helen Cornelius from the J. L. Hudson Company. Miss Cornelius is style advisor and director of the lecture fashion bureau for Hudson's. Her selection resulted in the naming of the following for models: Mrs. Charles F. Craig, Mrs. Howard L. Simpson, Miss Suzanne House, Mrs. Julian Case, Miss Barbara Thompson, Miss Helen V. Walker, Miss Lillian Vhay, Mrs. Ralph Bird, Mrs. A. L. McCormick, Mrs. Laurence P. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Blythe, Miss Winifred Hudson, Mrs. G. M. Dwelley, Miss Charlotte Whalen, Miss Ayesha Alt, Mrs. E. G. Wasey, Mrs. Fred D. Farrar, Miss Margaret Phillips and Mrs. Harry Mack. Miss Eleanor Mack, Miss Margaret and Katherine Donnelly, Miss Maurine Hammelef, and Miss Hilda Trumbull.

To Erect Platform.

Strutting down a temporary platform that will extend forty feet at the extreme end of the platform, the models will display gowns of the periods from 1880 to the present day. The collection of yesterday's costumes is very rare and is the property of the J. L. Hudson Company. The real fashions which are the most exclusive Hudson models are then to be displayed by the mannequins. These will include sport togs, afternoon and evening gowns in a variety of artistic creations. Miss Cornelius has, in fact, just returned with these outfits from New York.

A small army of decorators will enter the auditorium Tuesday and under the personal direction of the Hudson decorator will hang the auditorium stage with colorful drapings as well as the platform, entirely will make a fitting background for the costumes.

Jean Goldkette's Orchestra

Miss Cornelius, director of the Style Show, will announce the models as they appear in the old fashioned costumes, while Waldo E. Fehr will announce the modern models to song as they prance out, accompanied by the Goldkette's orchestra, which is furnishing the music for the entire show. This is the first time that such an orchestra has been engaged to appear in Birmingham for an entertainment.

Silver cloth is to be used in abundance in draping the platform, and the same color will be used throughout the auditorium in forming it from an auditorium of uninteresting plainness to a thing of beauty, temporarily.

Boxes To Be Filled.

The patrons and patronesses are to occupy the boxes that will be constructed down the sides of the auditorium and across the center as well as around the running track, which will be used for the first time in this capacity. The committees working on the many phases of the affair include an astounding number of the prominent people in the community and it is expected that the audience as well as the group of models will represent the "best people" in the village and Hills. Tickets, it is said by the committee, will be at a premium before the beginning of the next week. They are now on sale at most of the local stores.

Close Of Roll Call To Release Matrons For Social Affairs

During the past few weeks the majority of the active society members have been interested in the several benefit affairs that have demanded much attention and social affairs have become less frequent and more informal. This week completes the Community House Roll Call and means that about seventy-five village and Hills matrons will be released from the monotony of house to house soliciting for subscribers, and can return to the round of society that naturally interests local women. Next week also brings an end to the work involved in producing the Rotary Benefit Show on Thursday.

On Monday afternoon the drive officially closed with a tea in the Community House, although this week will be devoted to follow-up work. At the tea a report was made by all of the captains on the various teams and the prizes were awarded for the work. The prizes were offered by Mrs. T. R. Donovan, Mrs. John B. Williams, Mrs. George T. Hendrie and W. Whiting Raymond.

Mrs. Whallan, as captain, was awarded the first prize for the captain with the greatest number of subscribers, while Mrs. H. C. Penny was the first prize winner for the captain with the most cash returns. Mrs. H. Y. Hemstreet was the assistant who received the prize for the most subscribers and Mrs. Mann the prize for the assistant with the largest fund. The guests included the 75 women who have worked on the roll call solicitations.

At the tea which followed the reports Mrs. John W. Williams presided over the tea table. Two large black bowls filled with iris and lilacs graced the tea table, with slender candlesticks holding lilac-shaded candles.

Throughout the house the lilacs were used in profusion in purple and black bowls and clusters of iris. Mrs. Raymond W. Reilly was responsible for the decorations.

MISS B. WENDORPH TO WED HERE ON JUNE 10

Invitations have been issued this week by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wendorph to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Beulah Wendorph, to Emil Gustav Olin on June 10. Mr. Olin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Olin of Mt. Vernon, Illinois.

Rev. W. C. McKnight will perform the ceremony at the home of the Wendorphs on Brown street at eight o'clock in the evening, before a small gathering of the family and a few close friends. Miss Wendorph has asked her sister, Mrs. Charles Olin, to be maid of honor. Charles Olin will assist his brother as best man. The couple will leave after the ceremony for a short trip and upon their return will reside in Eco City.

Mrs. Joseph Edgar of Ridgedale avenue, Mrs. Richard Lawler of Worth street, and Mrs. Homer Le Joy of Pontiac, are among the hostesses who have planned to entertain for Miss Wendorph with pre-nuptial affairs, early in June.

Many Affairs Are Given For Miss Vhay

There is much interest evident in the Hills as well as Grosse Pointe and Detroit about the Vhay-Murphy nuptials that will occur at high noon in the Holy Name Chapel on Saturday, May 30. Miss Elsie Vhay, the bride-elect, is very popular in the younger circles and this week and next are one continuous round of pre-nuptial affairs.

The wedding is to be simple with only the two families and close friends at the ceremony. This will be followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Vhay, on the Bloomfield Center Road.

The wedding party includes Miss Lillian Vhay a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, Mrs. W. Ward Duckett and Miss Delphine also sisters of Miss Vhay will be bridesmaids.

Dean Robinson will serve in the capacity of best man while the ushers will include James Vhay, George Murphy, Austin McAfeen, of New York City, and Robert Lay, of Chicago.

Little Misses Delphine Duckett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Duckett and Lenore Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Fisher, will be the flower girls.

Mrs. Ward Duckett is starting the round of affairs for Miss Vhay with a luncheon today at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. Tomorrow Mrs. Henry Whiting is giving a bridge-tea at her Detroit home. Next Monday, Mrs. Jerome E. J. Keane and Miss Malinda Dwyer are having a tea at the Dwyer's Grosse Pointe home for Miss Vhay. The next day Mrs. Edwin K. Hoover has invited a party to lunch at the Grosse Pointe club for Miss Vhay who will be the honoree. Mr. Charles Thorne, Miss Vhay's fiance, arrives on Tuesday, and Sidney T. Miller are giving a dinner for the couple at their home in Detroit.

Miss Eleanor McVeigh, of Detroit, has issued invitations for a bridge tea on Thursday afternoon honoring Miss Vhay and Mrs. Frederick Boody (Elizabeth Briscoe) a recent bride. Thursday evening Dean Robinson of Lone Pine Road is entertaining for members of the wedding party with a dinner at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Friday evening the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Vhay, are giving the rehearsal dinner at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Mr. Murphy and the out of town members of the wedding party, Austin McAllen and Robert Lay, will be the guests of Dean Robinson at his home on Lone Pine Road through the wedding, after their arrival the early part of the week.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR RECENT B'HAM BRIDE

Mrs. Maurice Carter, (Lillian Potel) a recent bride, was the honor guest at a lovely miscellaneous shower last Saturday evening when Miss Norma Berger was hostess at her home on Pierce street at a bridge party and buffet supper. Throughout the house Miss Berger used a color scheme of yellow and white, and her supper table was centered with a colorful bowl of yellow tulips and daffodils.

Besides the honoree the party included the Misses Thelma McQuarter, Helen Lynch of Pontiac, Eloise Carnahan, Marion McClelland, Winifred Bowland, Myra Grattan, Mary White, Florence Adams, Ruth Armstrong of Detroit, Helen Rosso, Virginia Hupp, Beryl Haynes, Grace Harrington, Betty Harrington, Louise Shepard, Lucile Campbell, Claire Gillett, Ethel Medsker, and Dorothy Pote

Mr. and Mrs. Carter have returned to Birmingham from Toledo, where they went on their wedding trip, and are residing for the present with Mr. Carter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Carter, on George street.

SUNSET HILL CLUB TO GIVE MUSICALE

Members of the Sunset Hill club have been invited to a morning Musicale to be given next Tuesday at the club house on Orchard Lake. Mrs. Viola Bridges Hobbs, contralto, will be the entertainer, and the Musicale will be followed by a buffet breakfast.

Much interest has been apparent in Mrs. Hobbs' work since she recently won the state contest in the National Federation of Music at Ann Arbor, the Young Artists' Musical Stand this the states' contest at Indianapolis. She has been selected now to go to Portland, Oregon, to enter the National Contest. Mrs. Hobbs is making her home this season at the Lone Pine Tea House.

Hascall Buys New Home

After a short period of remodeling, the Louis Hascalls expect to occupy the A. L. McMeans home on the Madison avenue. The McMeans are in California and Mr. Hascall recently purchased the place. The Hascalls are now living on North Woodward avenue.

Guest From Chicago

Mrs. T. W. Talbot of Chicago has as her house guest for the next few days Mrs. Ernest Reckitt of Chicago. Arriving on Wednesday, Mrs. Reckitt will be with the Talbotros over the week end.

Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howarth gave a beautifully appointed dinner at their home on Pierce street Wednesday evening, complimenting Frederick B. Smith Jr., of Ridgedale avenue, on his birthday anniversary.

Visitor From France

Dr. Austin Weyand of Paris, France, with Mrs. Mary Thompson and Miss Edith Weyand of Toronto, Canada, spent part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Weller on Pierce street. Dr. Werden makes this home in Paris and his stay in Birmingham culminated a short visit to Canada and the United States. He sailed for his home early this week.

Miscellaneous Shower

Last Wednesday evening, in their hall on North Woodward avenue, the Pythian Sisters gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Beulah Wendorph, of Brown street, a bride-elect, and Mrs. Charles G. Olin, (Florence Wendorph), a recent bride. The hall was made very attractive with an abundance of flowers. Mrs. Olin was a bride of early May, and Miss Wendorph's wedding is calendared for June 10.

OUTSTANDING LUNCHEON TO LADIES' SOCIETY

Outstanding among the afternoon affairs of the week was a luncheon on Monday given by Mrs. Fred G. Crawford at her home on East Maple avenue. As president of the Ladies Society of the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Crawford entertained the other new officers.

Among her guests she had Mrs. C. H. Yaxley, Mrs. Delbert C. Morris, Mrs. Charles S. Kinnison, Mrs. Winnifred Burkman, Mrs. Seymour D. Adams, Mrs. Guy Jensen, Mrs. E. R. Emerson, Mrs. T. B. Smith, and Mrs. W. L. Uptegraff.

O. E. S. Memorial Services

Local club and fraternal orders are passing through a very quiet spell which is more than likely to exist throughout the summer, as almost every club is expected to close for the summer months within a short time. However, Memorial Day here is to be celebrated in a very elaborate manner by the Eastern Star Order throughout Oakland County. Members from the Birmingham lodge will have an active part in the Memorial Day services. The ceremonies will be conducted at Walled Lake and will take the form of a service for all deceased Eastern Star members from the district.

Return From Abroad

The Wallace J. Frosts have returned from their trip abroad and are now located again in their new home on Tooting Lane.

A.A.U.W. Held Last Meeting Of Year At Mrs. Osterman's Home

According to past custom, the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women held their last meeting of the current year in the country on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. G. Osterman at Oak Knob.

Mrs. Myron Vorce talked to the women on the Lucretia Mott amendment from a protective view point and Mrs. Bessie Moton Garner a Detroit attorney and an official of the National Woman's Party discussed the question from the affirmative side. Interesting reports were also handed in from the various committees and officers of the association. It was also voted to hold a barn dance the first week of June the proceeds of which are to go toward the student loan fund.

Leaving in a group, the members motored to their meeting place. After a delightful one o'clock luncheon the afternoon was occupied with a round table discussion of the subject of equal rights.

Judging from the interest shown in the discussion of the afternoon deep enthusiasm and a large attendance from Birmingham women will help to make the convention of the National Woman's Party a big success here in June. Meetings of the association have throughout the entire winter had as their center of discussion the problems of the public school age child which has also held the attention of the Detroit branch. The local association is especially interested in the problem from a personal view point; a great desire has been shown on the part of many Birmingham mothers for the establishment of a school for children between the ages of two and six years.

During the afternoon a short business session also held. The university women will convene again in September, when the new officers will take up their work, with Mrs. Hallett Jillson president, Mrs. Y. C. Smith as recording secretary, and the two directors at large being Mrs. C. F. Kennedy and Mrs. A. G. Brude.

Move To Summer Home

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smithson are closing their home this week and taking up their residence at their summer home on Cooley Lake. During the first month of their stay at the lake they will have Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alles as their guests, and later in the summer they are expecting to entertain a group of friends from Washington, D. C.

Hostess At Bridge Tea

Miss Marguerite Zabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Zabel of Manchester road, was hostess at a bridge tea at her home last Saturday afternoon for a group of the school set from Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. Brightly colored tulips were used on the tea table and about the rooms.

Returns From East

Mrs. John T. Shaw of Bloomfield Hills returned home Monday from a ten-day sojourn in Washington, D. C. and New York City. She made the trip in company with Mrs. W. C. Hamilton of Grosse Pointe. During their stay in Washington they attended the national meeting of the Colonial Dames Society.

Moved Local Residence

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Donnelly, and their two daughters, Misses Margaret and Katherine Donnelly, moved this week from Vinewood avenue to Brookside Drive where they will be domiciled in the home formerly occupied by the D. V. Williamsons, who recently moved to Chicago.

New Resident Feted

Affairs continue to center around newcomers to the village. This week Mrs. O'Sullivan from Chicago arrived with her family to take up residence in their new home on Madison avenue. Mrs. Fred J. Douglass gave a luncheon for Mrs. O'Sullivan on Wednesday at her home on Madison avenue. The table was set for eighteen and was very attractively decorated with sweet peas and May flowers. The sweet peas and May flower centerpiece idea being repeated in the individual favors of sweet pea bouquets. Mrs. O'Sullivan is the Detroit representative for the Curtis Publishing Co., of Philadelphia.

Leave For Philadelphia

Mrs. George H. Harding and small daughter, Caroline, are departing this week for Philadelphia where they will make their future home. Previous to Mr. Harding's going to that city last week several farewell events took place. Among those who entertained were Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simpson, and Dr. and Mrs. George V. Raynale.

Detroit Wellesley Club

Twenty-five members of the Detroit Wellesley Club were entertained with a one o'clock luncheon Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Carol Roehm in "Oak Knoll," Bloomfield Hills. Miss Roehm is president of the club.

Baseball Luncheon

Novel ideas were carried out at a baseball luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. A. J. Bacon at her home on Oakland avenue for eighteen of the younger matrons of the village. The table was attractively decorated with favors in the form of miniature baseballs. In the afternoon the group of guests motored to the city to see the Washington game at Navin Field.

Mrs. Sarah Carter was hostess to members of the Woman's Relief Corp of Pontiac at an all day meeting at the home of her son, Cassius Carter, on George street, Thursday of last week. Mrs. Carter arranged a program of music for the afternoon to entertain her guests.

Luncheon At "Valhalla."

At her Bloomfield Hills home, "Valhalla," Mrs. T. R. Donovan was hostess at a pretty luncheon last Tuesday for members of St. Agaret's Guild of St. James' church. Following the luncheon the members conducted their regular business meeting.
