THRIFT

The key to success and happiness is thrift.

Benjamin Franklin was a very thrifty man. He gave of his earnings to the poor to make them happy. Another tenth went to the bank and the rest he kept for his monthly expenses.

There is more than one kind of thrift. Watch where all your money goes by keeping a budget. There are ever so many ways of thrift.

A spendthrift is a man that seems to think life is nothing. He spends all his money foolishly. He has no money. He gambles his money away. He has no home; he rents.

Which would you rather be, a thrifty man or a spendthrift?

Walter Rohloff, 6B, Pierce School.

THRIFT AND ITS VALUE

What is thrift? Is it merely the saving and wise spending of money? No, it means far more than this. It is the direct road to success and happiness.

Thrift week is observed January seventeenth to the twenty-third. It is especially appropriate to observe it at this time as January the seventeenth is the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, who was a true teacher of thrift.

The purpose of thrift is to promote the habit of saving and spending of money wisely.

One can form the habit of being thrifty by doing some of these things: earn what is paid to you; have a savings account at the bank; investing a part of your money wisely; perhaps in real estate, insurance or bonds; pay all bills promptly and so establish your credit; make and use a budget and own your own home.

Thrift means the proper use of time, the observing of the common laws of health and hygiene, and the conservation of natural resources. In a word thrift is use without waste.

Betty Roura, 6th Grade Adams School.

THRIFT

From now on I am going to be a thrifty person. I am going to earn my own money, and every week I shall put a little in the bank. As the saying is "Put away something each week, and it is a sure road to success and happiness."

I will see that path to success shall be kept paved with truth, and I shall work and earn, have a bank account and pay my bills promptly. I shall spend no money foolishly. I shall spend it wisely and when I have started to save I shall not take the money out of the bank. I shall leave it in until my parents ask me to draw it out.

When I draw money out to spend for clothes and books, I will see that they are of good quality.

The money I keep in the bank I shall keep for such purposes as my education and for such things as doctor bills.

I am glad I have read and studied the way to success because it has given me a number of sensible ideas to carry through life.

Mildred Lewis, 5A Grade, Adams School.

THRIFT

"What is thrift?" you might ask. I would say, thrift is not merely miserly hoarding. It is sharing with others, spending wisely, and saving as much as possible regularly.

The benefits of thrift are easily seen. In the first place if a person forms the habit of thrift, it is as hard to break them of that habit as it is to break them of any other. It is such a satisfaction to be able to know you have money in a savings bank drawing interest that makes it easier to form that habit of thrift.

Tom has had a bank account since 1914. He has been adding five dollars to it each month.

When he needs the money he will have enough to educate himself and prepare for a happy life.

The national thrift week is a nation wide scope celebrated in hundreds of cities throughout the United States. It always starts on Benjamin Franklin's birthday—Jan. 17.

Bruce Hurson, 5B Grade, Adams School.

Are you paying for a Packard —without owning one?

Very likely you are paying the Packard price for motor car transportation while believing you cannot afford a Packard. Thousands do.

Yet while they long for Packard Six comfort, beauty and distinction others own and drive these fine cars at an actual saving in money over the cost of compromise transportation.

You too can own a Packard Six. Before you buy your next motor car, use a pencil and a scratch pad before you use a pen and a check book.

Most of the items of cost in owning a car are the same as between a Packard Six and any car at even half its price.

It costs little more to insure the Packard than the half-price car. No more to garage it—no more to license it—no more for a wash and polish! Interest on your Packard investment will be a few cents a day higher—but less frequent and lower repair charges under Packard's flat rate service plan far offset that item.

Packard Six owners report 14 to 16 miles to a gallon of gasoline, 1,000 miles or more to a gallon of motor oil, 15,000 to 20,000 miles per set of tires. What half-price car does better?

But those items, so strongly stressed by most manufacturers, are relatively unimportant. Depreciation is the really important charge. Depreciation costs many motorists 2 or 3 times as much per mile as they pay for gas, oil and rubber together.

The used car most often turned in last year by Packard Six buyers had been driven an average of only 15,087 miles!

Depreciation cost every one of those owners eight cents a mile! They, none of them, spent a total of over three cents a mile for gasoline, oil and tires.

If you are one of the thousands who buy a half-price car every year or two—every 15,000 to 20,000 miles—you can own and drive a Packard Six for less money.

More than twice as many Packard Six cars were sold last year as in 1924. And 70% of all these sales were made to those who had been buying lower-priced cars frequently.

These Packard Six owners know they can keep their new cars two or three times as long as the cars they turned in—and they intend to do it. On such a basis they drive the car they have always wanted at a lower-per-mile cost than they have ever paid.

It is a fact that 98% of those who have bought Packard Six cars during the past five years are still Packard owners. They are not paying a heavy depreciation toll every year. You need not do so either.

The Packard Six five-passenger sedan with all necessary accessories including spare tire and with freight and tax paid, is delivered at your door for $2745. Thousands have bought Packard Six cars without ever paying out more than $200 in cash at any one time, used car allowance considered, the payments seldom exceeding $150 a month.

Packard cars are now being sold on the basis of the new tax rate
