

Folksburg Items

P. G. COX, Member

For a long time there has been a good deal of dissatisfaction in Folksburg with the way our news events have been passed along to the public in general. Some things that ought to be told seem to be squelched somewhere, and also vice versa. As an instance of the latter, not long ago a county paper got hold of the fact that a bull dog had been installed in our bank of nights to protect it against robbers who might swoop in from the outside. It wasn't meant for the world to know that, for it puts the dog at a disadvantage. So all in all, it has been decided that we should have a special itemizer; somebody who can use more or less headwork in reporting the Folksburg news. And after a fair amount of urging, the writer has assumed the task, knowing full well that he is probably better thought of now than he will be henceforth.

Health through these parts is better than common. Of course, it still have the same dozen or so in the 80's or 90's that they'll never have a wet day again, and up to now they've not weakened any in their decision. But otherwise there's not much complaint. In fact, Henry Hale, who runs the drug store, says that trade in medicine and tonic is mighty low, and outside of paint and True Tale make a sweep in from the outside. It wasn't meant for the world to know that, for it puts the dog at a disadvantage. So all in all, it has been decided that we should have a special itemizer; somebody who can use more or less headwork in reporting the Folksburg news. And after a fair amount of urging, the writer has assumed the task, knowing full

This week's meeting of the Women's Discussion Club was held at the home of Mrs. Jay Butler, and was well attended by our club members. The subject for discussion was the present day servant problem, but before a solution could be arrived at, it was time for those present to go home.
