Eating Them Hot and Crisp

mer weather calls for light, easily prepared meals remoteness from the hot kitchen.

Waffles—hot, crisp, well-browaed—make a delicious and nour-ishing breakfast dish; they are welcomed by grown-ups and kid-dies alike. But they must be eaten hot. This is easily arranged with the electric waffle iron, which can be used right on the table.

An Electric Waffle Iron (take) 21/2 cents worth of current for a meal), an Electric Percolator (2 cents), and an Electric Toaster (2 cents) brought together on the breastfast table should certainly go far toward the making of a happy breakfast-hour.
