GIRL'S BASKETBALL SEASON BEGINS

Change of Rules Governing Time Games Are Played Is Explained

Thursday was 'sign-up' for this season's basketball. About 35 girls turned out for a fine start. This year the schedule is much less rigid, than heretofore. As a school playing eight games toward results of the ruling of the board of education limiting girls basketball, much misunderstanding has slipped out. Because of the strenuous work, the strain and excitement was considered too much on girls, so it was decided that all home games be played at 4 p. m. and out of town games at 7 p. m. Formerly the schools were divided in A, B, and C class schools, such class playing with other schools in the same class, but this year, schools within a 30-mile circle, with the exception of Detroit, have formed a league, each school playing eight games toward the championship with seven dif-

ADAMS STUDENTS TO ATTEND DANCE

Junior High Boys and Girls to be Present at Football Party

Students of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of the Adams School will attend the football dance Friday evening in the Baldwin High School. It was agreed at the meeting of the school board Monday evening.

Heretofore, only Baldwin High School students have been admitted to this affair, which is the gala celebration of the closing of the football season. This year, however, there are junior high school students at Adams, and they will be invited.

The party will be the occasion of presenting letters to those football men who have earned them. It is the second of the two parties scheduled for the school during the year. The first one was the Freshman reception, held early in the fall. A party to celebrate the closing of the basketball season, in the spring will be the third event, and the junior-senior reception, which is limited to members of those two classes, will end the social season towards the end of spring term.
