The General Store Was Lincoln's First Bank

With a conviction that a part of his business was to save regularly, Abraham Lincoln started a bank account at the earliest possible moment in his life.

Back of his determination to save was the experience of the first 23 years of his life, years of hard labor, when produce, not cash was the reward of his industry with the axe.

When he married at the age of 34, his income from Law was about $25 a week. The General Store which outfitted his home also served as his bank.

In spite of small earnings he always managed to keep a little ahead of the game. In spite of moderate charges for his services, he always managed to save some-

As we honor Lincoln for his sterling Americanism, his great, tender heart, his courage and his vision—let us emember, too, that he built an estate through industry and thrift.

Eight years ago automaric heating of homes—by oil-burning—was made practical, reliable.

This was done by Nokol Automatic Oil Heat. Since then it has been installed in more that 27 thousand American homes—and today provides them with perfect heat.

Which proves that Nokol is as far beyond the "experimental stage" as the automobile industry.

This is what Nokol adds to ome-comfort:

No further need for furnace attention or care.

Healthful, comfortable temperatures constantly maintained—which means better health, fewer colds.
Your basement kept as clean and tidy as your living rooms.
Everything about the home far cleaner than when coal is burned.
