"1776," GREAT PAGEANT, WILL START JULY 3

The pageant of "1776" which is being produced by the University of Detroit Alumni Association, will open in Detroit July 3 at University of Detroit Stadium.

"1776" vividly and accurately commemorated the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia.

"1776" tells the story of the early struggles of our forefathers for the liberty which is now our national heritage.

"1776" is largely presented with nature as its stage and background. The action will take place along more than 300 feet of the exhibition field.

COLOR TO FEATURE NEW MOTOR CARS

Colorful gowns, colorful hats, colorful hostess, colorful attendants - and now the American girl, the world's most colorful maiden, is turning her disarming and dazzling eyes upon the color of her motor car.

"The modern girl tells us there is a new freshness in the color of a gown, a new charm in the change of its style line. Both are essential, she claims. A new shade of blue becomes known to travel in popularity from coast to coast in a few weeks; a single new tint has been known to speak in the amusement annals of the city, is assured by the scale of advance preparations which have already been begun, not only for the production itself, but for the capacity crowds which are expected.
