

WILL YOU?

If you had always wanted a home built among the trees, back from the road, a bit secluded, with a clear sparkling brook meandering across your estate, with a rose garden, tennis courts, and a rustic bridge, in fact, a beautiful site of natural beauty,—and you knew that Mr. Bunyan could tell you where such a place could be found close to Birmingham, you would at least call and ask him about it. Now, wouldn't you?

The Other Chap Says Something—

THE WHY OF THE LEGISLATIVE COO-COO.

Another member of the legislature has been discovered holding a job in one of the state departments at Lansing and has for the past year been drawing a salary of $2,400 a year. He let loose of his position—which is in the highway department—just long enough to take part in the special session of the legislature last February, several measures pertaining to highway matters then being before that body, when he again commenced drawing pay from the state as an employee in the highway department at an increase of $200 a year in salary.

These questions naturally arise: "Would that legislator have been employed in that particular department, no matter how well qualified, had he opposed during the regular session any of the measures asked for by the administration?"

"Would he have been taken back into the department at the close of the special session at an increase in salary had he opposed the Groesbeck legislative program?"

"How many sisters, brothers, cousins, uncles and aunts of legislators are now holding jobs in the departments at Lansing and why?"

Are state officials above the constitution and laws of the state? The provision of the state constitution relative to appointment of legislators, while such, to other salaried positions is so plain as to need no interpretation by the attorney general, and its purpose well understood, and its attempt to circumvent it by preposterous subterfuges, such as the "employing" of a legislator to certain work instead of "appointing" him to a position in the department is quite characteristic of the present administration.—W. N. Miller in Farmington (Mich.) Enterprise.

Record Crowds At Shoe Store Sale

Great progress during the past week, in the close out sale at the shoe store of Fred L. Young, well known local merchant, is reported by the proprietor of the business whose enthusiasm for the job in response from the Birmingham public in the course of the sale is evident in a recent statement made by him: "The crowds that have thronged my store during the past two weeks while the close out sale has been in progress is representative of almost every section of Oakland County. The countless hundreds of customers that have visited the store have outnumbered by far my most optimistic expectations. While the stock has been greatly reduced, both in volume and price, since the opening days of the sale, there is still a large supply of shoes of all sizes manufactured by the very best concerns, that I have been forced to mark at a surprisingly low price. I want to thank both my regular customers and the many new ones that I have gained for their cooperation in this final sale."

In addition to his shoe stock, Mr. Young will offer all fixtures and furnishings in the establishment, for sale.

Read Why Hupmobile Six Excels Cars Even Higher in Price

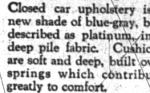

Hupmobile Six superiority is basic. It is conclusive. It does not exclude even cars above our price. Herewith are briefly detailed a few of the features.

Special Windshield Clear-Vision, Ventilating—

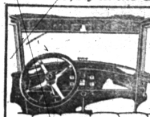

The one-piece, clear-vision windshield ventilates without tilting in or out. It raises vertically by a hand lever, circulating still-width sweep of air down into the driving compartment, and straight back into the car when desired, as shown by the arrows.

Newest Upholstery in Latest Mode—

Closed car upholstery is a new shade of blue-gray, best described as platinum, in a deep pile fabric. Cushions are soft and deep, built over springs which contribute greatly to comfort.

Safety in the Clear-Vision Bodies—

Hupmobile bodies have narrow pillars for clear vision. At the pillars, the internal framing is of steel. Elsewhere the framing is of wood. This composite construction affords all advantages of both steel and wood, and eliminates the disadvantages of all-steel and all-wood.

Other High-Prized Features
