"Unified Line" New Buick Improvement

Speed, economy and accuracy in the manufacture of Buick automobiles will be greatly increased by a new "Unified Line" for the assembly of cars, which is now being built by the Buick Motor Company.

out the country. The assembly line is used for the rapid assembly of various parts of a motor car...

There has been no definite announcement of what new features the "Unified Line" will embody, but it is understood that several lines now scattered among other buildings...

Big production of the automobile industry dates from the time the assembly line first became a factor in motor car manufacturing.

Entire G. M. Plant Is Behind Pontiac Six

In introducing the new Pontiac Six, the Oakland Motor Car company was especially fortunate in having practically all the plant facilities needed...

When the Fisher Body Corporation built a mammoth plant within a few blocks of the Oakland factories...

Then the available space in the Oakland factories was made greater by an entire re-arrangement of the machinery and equipment to build both the Oakland Six and Pontiac Six...

The third explanation of how it is possible to build two motor cars in a factory where formerly one was built was given recently by A. J. Brandt, vice president in charge of operations...

As a net result of this most efficient use of space in the Oakland factories and the fact that the Pontiac Six did not require new factories...

Sea Devout of Fish A season returning to Norway reports that there is a catch of water in the Pacific off the United States where fish return in five or six weeks...
