

MARKS WEDDING OF BIRMINGHAM PAIR

Held at Home of Rev. Father W. W. Ryan in Village

A lovely and quiet wedding was celebrated at 4:30 p. m. last Saturday afternoon when Miss Florence Ruby Connelly, of east Maple avenue, became the bride of Edmund Derby Mansfield, of Detroit.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the Rev. Father William W. Ryan, on Harmon avenue, before an altar decorated with fall flowers, and with tapers adding their stateliness.

Miss Connelly was attended by her sister, Miss Ella Connelly, of east Maple avenue; and W. W. Gates, of Detroit, assisted Mr. Mansfield as best man.

The bride wore a gown of crepe rose, in colors of autumn rose and silver. It was made with light blouse in back, and a long, flowing sleeve. Her wrap was of the same shade of rose in a heavy material with a high collar, and a long, flowing running down to two points in the back. She wore a hat of the same French felt with a ribbon and carried a bouquet of small yellow mums and delicate pink roses.

Her maid-of-honor wore a blue ensemble. The dress, made along straight lines, was of georgette, and she wore a large picture of a young man in same material. Her bouquet was of yellow roses and orchid sweet peas.

A dinner for the immediate family and friends, which was followed by a reception, was held at 7:30 p. m. at the Lone Pine Tea House, which was decorated for the occasion with red, white, and yellow flowers, and yellow candles provided the only light.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield left for a motor trip through the east, to be gone for two weeks. They will stop in New York and Boston, the latter being Mr. Mansfield's former home.

On their return, they will reside at 2905 west Grand Boulevard. Later they plan to live in Birmingham.

Village Players Announce First Play in New Theater, November 27

The new theater for the Village Players of Birmingham is rapidly nearing completion and the first evening of plays which will be presented Saturday, Nov. 27. On that night, "The Travelers," by Booth Tarkington, and "The Canterbury Triangle," by A. J. Mills, will be given. All of these plays have been assigned and rehearsals have already begun. The first play will be directed by the author, and the latter by Madeleine Tiltonson.

The theater is being built by the Tiltonson Building company. Construction was started early in September and the building is practically finished with the exception of a hard maple dancing floor which will be laid in the auditorium when the other work is done.

The building is of steam-cured cement blocks trimmed with old brick. Comedy masks are used on the front for decoration. The interior trim is of a dark bronze stain. The Village Players Theater will be one of the most complete little theaters to be found anywhere in the country, for it has been spared to make possible the production of plays which, for technical reasons, are usually considered unsuitable for many little theater groups.

The stage is high, permitting the height of all scenery and drops. It is 22 feet deep and 42 feet wide. Beneath the stage are to be found the dressing rooms and toilet facilities, in addition to the boiler room, in which a steam system heating plant is being installed.

The completion of the building represents a great deal of work on the part of the Village Players. The theater has been financed by pledges from practically the entire membership. In addition to which the members have contributed special gifts, some of which are as follows:

The Birmingham chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold initiation ceremonies at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

AMERICAN ART THEME OF LITERARY STUDY

Work of Two Innes' Discussed at First Proseman's Dinner To Be Presented

American art was the general theme of study chosen by the Art department of the Woman's Literary club for this year and the first program to be presented featured the work of George Innes, Sr., and his son George Jr., whose recent death has brought his name to prominence.

Mrs. Fred Ross outlined the three periods of influence in American paintings and illustrated by several reproductions. Mrs. Charles Todd gave a history of Innes' work as a personal interview with Innes, Jr., who when with a party to see some of his pictures, which hang in a church at Tarpon Springs, Fla. She exhibited reproductions of several of his paintings, the latter called "The Only Hope" being of outstanding interest. Intimate glimpses of his personal life were given by Mrs. George Hebblewhite.

Mrs. Anthony De Vlieger sang "Banava Eyes" and "The Heart Messages" by Frank Ray with Mrs. George Singers at the piano and Mrs. George Singers played two "Dowdell's" songs, "To an Indian Lodge" and "To a Wild Rose."

A luncheon by the County Federation of Women's clubs at Northwest Inn Monday was announced and Mrs. E. B. Hart was given the tickets for disposal to club members.

The next meeting will be in charge of the Home Economics department who will entertain the club at a luncheon at the Community House at 1 p. m. Nov. 16.

ADAMS P. T. A. PLAN CHILD BOOK EXHIBIT

LaBelle To Address Group At Meeting in Connection With Tuesday's Showing

An exhibition of children's books loaned by the library extension service of the University of Michigan will be the feature of the meeting of the Adams School Parent-Teachers' association Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Alfred J. LaBelle, Birmingham book dealer, will talk in connection with the exhibition, as will Mrs. LaBelle.

This program fits in admirably with the plan of the National Association of Book Publishers to name the week of Nov. 7 to Nov. 13 National Book week. The purpose of this week is to stimulate interest in books, especially among children.

The group of books to be shown Tuesday is one of five groups of classics in good editions, acquired through the children's reading committee of the Michigan Parent-Teachers' association. The list includes books of interest to school children as well as to children. All five groups of books are to be lent out different T. A. organizations throughout the state. It is intended to raise money for their school and community libraries, according to Miss Edith Thomas, who is in charge of the University of Michigan library extension service.

All parents and teachers of Birmingham and the surrounding rural districts have been invited to attend the meeting of the Adams School Parent-Teachers' association at the Community House at 1 p. m. Nov. 16.
