Baldwin Theater announces some fine features for the coming week. Screen stars big and little as well as screen fans, over the entire world have become one voice in acclaiming Billie Dove as the most charming and beautiful woman on the screen today.

Thomas Meighan

It was in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa. that popular Tom Meighan was born where he spent his childhood and where he made his first appearance on the stage, later being engaged to the play "The Desert" which George Jessel will produce in the city.

doma of Mr. Hammerstein's latest vehicle and she is surrounded by a cast of principals including Guy Robertson, Bernard Goetz, Edmund Fitzpatrick, Alice Weaver, Betty Byron, Shep Camp, Phebe Bruce, Sylvia Highton and the Russian Art Choir numbering 60 voices.

THEATER GOSSIP FROM NEW YORK

Another comedian who is eagerly awaiting the result of his first film is George Jessel, now a-tour with "The Jazz Singer." If it is successful Mr. Jessel will probably be lost to the stage indefinitely.

Katherine Cornell will remain on tour with "The Green Hat" until Nov. 6, when she will conclude her season in Buffalo, which is, incidentally, her home town. She will then be seen under the Belasco management in the play "The Desert" which George Jessel will produce in the city.

Among the uncasted first-nighters in this town during the last week were Frank Swinnerton and Hugh Walpole.

Seemingly "The Ghost Train" has but another week of life here—it began its run auspiciously, but patronage has slowly eased off. It will go to Chicago and will be replaced at the Chicago Theatre by "If I Was Rich," transferred from the Mansfield. The latter house, in turn, is mentioned as the possible home of "The Winged Messenger."

"Katja, the Dancer," which opened in Philadelphia a week ago, will probably come to Jolson's Theatre a week hence.

Half a dozen plays wound up their metropolitan careers this week. They were "Garrick Gaities," which has been pleasantly successful at the house which gives it its name "Number 7," which could not quite make good of it at the Harris; "Luff That Off," after a year's quiet run at Wallace's; "Horn Liar," which put up a brave fight at the Harris and the Cohan; "Sour Grapes," which a lot of people liked exceedingly, and "Potash and Perlmutter, Detectives." The play entitled "Stylish Stout" has temporarily closed on tour and will be somewhat revised before it tempts the metropolis. This is the comedy in which Lou Holtz has been playing the leading part. Until the play is ready again Mr. Holtz will spend the time in the touring "Vanities," taking the place of the stricken Mr. Tinney.

A London newspaper says that when Somerset Maugham's "The Letter" is acted here Judith Anderson will have the leading role. Robert Milton will produce it—and probably soon.

Mr. Maughan, incidentally, is another English author who has recently reached these shores. In addition to "The Letter" his "The Constant Wife" also will be produced here. As already announced, Ethel Barrymore will appear in it.

H. H. Frasse, rightly unwilling to profit anew by the success of "No, No, Nanette," has named his forthcoming musical comedy "Yes, Yes, Yvette." It is, it will be remembered, a musicalization of "Nothing but the Truth," with Lynne Overman as its harassed hero. It will open a week from tonight in Detroit.

GARRICK

L. Lawrence Weber presents Houdini, the world famous magician and necromancer who will appear at the Garrick theater, Detroit, Michigan, this week, beginning next Sunday, with matinees of unusual to the ladies and children being presented on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Houdini is offering an entertainment consisting of "three shows in one"—magic, illusions, escapes and fraud medium exposure; an entire evening is devoted to this entertainment which never lags for a moment as the interest is sustained throughout.

Beginning next Sunday night that altogether refreshing musical comedy "Queen High" starts on its last week at the Casa theater, Detroit. It has been a long time since a musical comedy has been in Detroit that has been so complete in clean-cut humor, without a suggestive line, melodically following melody, interspersed with clever dance and ensemble numbers, as "Queen High."

With a cast of more than 150, a distinguished list of principals headed by Tessa Kosta and Guy Robertson and a quarter of a million dollars worth of costumes and scenic in-stillations, "Song of the Flame" is the most stupendous attraction presented in Detroit in many seasons.

Quality That Survives the Years When you feel the velvety smooth power and thrill to the flashing acceleration of the Hupmobile Six—you have, also, the solid satisfaction of knowing that this brilliant performance is accompanied by maximum dependability and long life.

You may expect of this Six all the outstanding performance, beauty of line and luxurious appointments usually found only in Sixes of much higher price.
