

Soon the Bell will Ring for SCHOOL DAYS

WITH the opening of school comes the normal resumption of business. Merchants have put in their fall line of goods and their shelves are carrying the year's maximum load.

A goodly share of this merchandise has been especially purchased for the students and it is through this page that the business men are announcing their preparedness to supply the various needs of this ever increasing student body.

The enthusiastic backing of school policies and the sincere interest felt in the student body by business men of Birmingham is reflected in the advertisements below.

COLLEGE INDEPENDENCE

"Save now, and have something with which to attend college," is a message you may not at present realize the truth of.

But after graduation, and your future looms ominous—it is then that you will or will not feel the security of a savings account or — "College Independence."
