A Message to the Careful Driver

LET'S admit that you are the careful driver you think you are—expert, confident, cautious. In spite of this you need automobile insurance. You need it to protect yourself against those accidents which are beyond human ability to avoid—and you need protection against accidents alleged to have happened.

No telling when you may be summoned to court to defend a damage suit, charged with an act you never committed, or with a license, or the excitement of the moment, or the wrong license number, and your license is reported. It may be very difficult for you to prove an alibi, especially if the suit is started sometime after the date of the alleged accident.

How easy it is to get into trouble—and how hard to get out of! Yet an automobile liability policy is a good reliable shield. It will protect you against damages and its cost is less than the legal fees you must have to pay in a single accident case.

Insure in April and prove you are a prudent driver as well as a careful one.
