FAMILIES UNITE FOR EASTER DAY

Many Villagers Plan Reunions For End Of Lenten Season

Next to Christmas, there is probably no day of the year when families so love to get together as on Easter Sunday. Birmingham is no exception to the rule. Many of the families in the city are scheduled for Sunday will show. Many of the travelers in the south have made special of "to get home by Easter."

Thomas Bushnell, of Cleveland, O., arrived Tuesday night to remain until after Sunday with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Grindley, of Puritan road, and their daughter Katherine, of Brookside drive, and Mr. Burnett's mother, Mrs. Noble Burnett.

A MUSICAL DELIGHT

ORCHESTRA

STRAND CONCERT

When the constitution and by-laws were read and adopted by the Birmingham Rotary Annex at their meeting last week, they became to their knowledge, the only organized club of the kind in the world. They sent a copy of the constitution and by-laws to the Rotary International Magazine.

The meeting was held at the Chateau Tea Room, with a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Stroup and Mrs. John Stahl. Two members of the Hudson Women's quartette, of Detroit and the regular accompanist, gave the program. They were obtained for the occasion through the courtesy of John Stahl and Joseph Mills. Three groups of songs and one piano solo made up the program.

Thursday Musicals Will Give Recital

The women's chorus of the Thursday Musicals is rehearsing each Wednesday morning for the three numbers which will be given next Thursday morning in the Presbyterian Church at the regular meeting. A special rehearsal will also take place at one p. m. Tuesday.

"The Awakening," a spring cycle, "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," and "Indian Lullaby," are the three numbers to be given by the chorus. In addition Mrs. J. Gilroy will sing "Care Belong," by Handel, "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal," by Quilter, and "Birdsday," by Cowan, and several numbers will be played by a string trio from Detroit.

Twelve members of the Delphian society are planning to attend the performance of the "Gothic Faust" at the Bonstelle Playhouse this afternoon. The club has recently taken up this work as their study. The next meeting of the Delphian society will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Stanley, 405 Madison avenue.

of Ann Arbor, will return from Indianapolis, Ind., Saturday, to spend Easter at home with Mrs. Noble Burnett as their guest. They left Saturday night by motor to visit Mr. Burnett's brother, Leo, who lives in Indianapolis.

Miss Frances Loney, the daughter of Mrs. A. E. Loney, of Purdy street, is at home from the University of Michigan for her spring recess. She will be with her family until after Easter.

Mrs. C. O. Winningson, of Long road, has gone to Chicago, Ill., to be with her son, Charles, over Easter Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. N. T. Shaw, of Aspin road, returned Friday from Florida, where they had been since early winter, and Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Johnston, of East Maple road, are expected home tomorrow from the South. Dr. and Mrs. Shaw motored back.

Mrs. Emil F. Baumann will be hostess at a family dinner Sunday at her home on Shirley drive, Mr. and Mrs. John Bainbridge, of Detroit, will be among the guests.

The Baumann children are arriving this week for the spring recess. John, Mary Jane, Bernard, Mrs. Arthur Hartwell will entertain the Baumann children at the birthday cake in the evening.

Mrs. Clarence Vliet heads the committee in charge of the home Saturday from the Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit.

FAIR COMMITTEE MEETS

The weekly all-day meeting of the monthly and bag committees for the 24th June fair June 27 will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Gillette, Jr., at Wing Lake. The meeting last Monday, which was to have been held at Mrs. Gillette's, took place at the home of Mrs. Warren Leach, chairman of the society.

Antique Shop Is Opened Here

Birmingham today boasts a real antique shop. Old Taft Hall at 172 South Woodward avenue has become the Elmwood Hills Antique Shop, owned and managed by Mrs. Helen R. Wendell, formerly Mrs. C. A. Wendell.

Mrs. Wendell is specializing in early American furniture and fixtures, which Mrs. Wendell has at hand. All of the pieces have come from old American families, where they have been cherished for many decades and handed down from generation to generation, she says.

"It becomes increasingly hard to find early American specimens each year," her agent said, "they have become so popular. Even the smallest hand, the owners know that popularity, any are worth to sell."

The old front room of Taft Hall is a veritable early American living room today. An ornate secretary, several old clocks of about the 1840 period, low chairs, sofas, chests of drawers, and gaily carved hooked rug, lend an early eighteenth century atmosphere to the room. Old iron, brass, candle sticks, fire and other wrought iron and hammered brass work, as well as a number of primitive pieces of Washington and Lincoln, are to be found in Mrs. Wendell's stock.

Mrs. Wendell for several years was manager of the Florentine shop, the new Women's City club building, Detroit. She also was connected with the D. J. Healy shop in Detroit for some time.
