BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham has unusually fine homes and resiown equipment.

Birmingham has unusually fine homes and residents who are unusually desirous of having their homes protected. Clizens demand a high calibre folds department and yet pay its members less than a living wage.

Living expenses being what they are it is obviously a strught for la man to know anything of prosperity on the salary members of the Police Department-receive.

Let us marifice some of the other items of increase on the large ladget if necessary, but do not true merglect longer the men who are required to be ready for lay down their lives if necessary that law and order may be preserved in Birmingham.

GLAD TO BE HOME AGAIN

One of the finest things about taking a trip to some part of this earth is the knowledge that the way eventually leads to home. As you may know, for the past two ponths we have been visiting in Plorida; we saw a lugle of that State, and also observed a bit of its state of affairs. The sunshing the same the same of the past two ponths we have been visiting in the arts and there was plerious; the grass want twey green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious; the grass want view green, and there was plerious to the place of the place of the grass of the gr even though its main street may be reminiscent of the Rocky Mountains, as the celebrated Pathos Petoskey might say.
