Away mow the emoke and their of the city, situated amid the hills of Oakland country, Franklin Village is like a refreshing bit of old England. To discriminating persons its 60dlly planned, will restricted properties make a vivid appeal. There are few such opportunities left in the Bloomfield Hills section. A number of well known people have purchased building sites here, but the present prices are such that these purchases are as desirable for insystement as for home-building. Franklin Village is if the very heart of the country club district, secluded, yet convenient. You will like it roomy home sites, which are from a third acre to two acres in size, laid out he conform to the natural topography of the land.
