PARIS GOWNS ARE DISTINCTIVE

Paris is, of course, the home of the unusual and distinctive frock. Two that are characteristic of the French trend are pictured. Left, a Pointe d'ere of Oriental inspiration with bolero simulated in silver and pearl tube beads, and long skirt in black chiffon over black lace. Right, a dinner frock by the same couturier in gold lace and black tulle.

Flavors Provide Variety In Meals

Avoid monotony in meals by using interesting combinations and a variety of flavors in your cupboard stocked with bay-leaf, canned pineapples, peppercorns, mint flavors, and celery, or furnish novelties. Try a "delicat" made with applesauce and mint flavor. Add chopped carrots or chopped green beans to your potato soup. Use left-over cooked vegetables in salad for the next meal. Almost anything, which is good to eat, is good in a salad or a sandwich. Chopped vegetables added to soup or meat in sandwiches, give the sandwiches a crispness and make the meat go farther. Chopped celery, carrots, or beets will take the place of lettuce in your meat sandwiches, if you happen to be out of lettuce. Corn muffins are warming. Cornmeal is a food food. The sauce served with meats, pork and apple-sauce, cranberries and fowl, grape and rabbit. Try the following sweet prunes in salad.

Orange Tea Biscuit
Two cups of flour, three tablespoons shortening, one-half teaspoon salt, four tablespoons baking powder, three-fourths cup milk, one-fourth of one ounce, free table-spoon sugar (added by flour). Mix as for baking powder biscuit and cut with a small biscuit cutter and place on oiled baking sheet. Bake, putting in oven, one-half piece of loaf-sugar in orange juice and place on lightly. Bake in oven, 15 minutes (450 degrees) for ten of fifteen minutes and serve hot.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

The most delicate Angelo Patri, famous New York educator, "This is difficult, especially for mothers," Patri says. "Mothers usually want to hold fast to a child long after nature has matured him and showed him out. He must go. He must lose the bonus that the home and experience of infancy and childhood to the test. He must find himself and his elders must take their hands off and bid him Godspeed.

HOLIDAY SEASON BRINGS XMAS DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Christmas dinners are rather "rigid" occasions. We know just about what to expect of them, but there is one that is different. It is also one that the young people may prepare themselves and give mother a rest and a treat.

Panocha
Put four cupfuls of brown sugar into a saucepan with a cupful of milk and boil seven minutes. Stir in a tablespoonful of butter, a teaspoonful of vanilla and two cupfuls of chopped English walnuts. Beat until it is creamy. Pour into a buttered pan to cool.

Honey Balls
Put into a saucepan a cupful of cream and three cupfuls of sugar. Cook gently until it thickens from the spoon, then turn in a half cupful of strained honey and cook until it reaches the consistency of a soft ball when a little is tried in cold water. Remove from the fire and fold in the stiffly beaten white of an egg, a cupful of chopped almonds and half cupful of vanilla. Beat until firm and creamy, then mould into small balls.

Sweet Praline
Put one cupful of sugar and three-quarters of a cupful of nut in threads from the spoon and is almost ready to sugar. Then stir in quickly a cupful of blanched almonds and filberts that have been dried after blanching, and a quarter cupful of heated English walnuts. Stir rapidly as they sugar, then throw them into a large sieve and shake off all the loose sugar, respraying them if it has stuck together. Put in a box lined with wax paper and cover tightly until used.

Sea Foam Kisses
Put a pound of sugar with three-quarters of a cupful of water into a saucepan and cook until it thickens in long threads from the fire and add two teaspoonfuls of vanilla, then pour in a thin stream into a very stiffly beaten egg white, adding slowly a cupful of chopped nuts. Drop by the teaspoonful onto a buttered platter in the meantime. The egg must be very stiffly beaten to make the candy successful.

Sweet Delight
Melt one cupful of sugar in an iron frying pan until it forms a golden syrup. Put two cupfuls of sugar, a half cupful of milk, a heaping tablespoonful of butter into a saucepan and when it reaches boiling point add the yellow syrup and cook until it reaches the soft-ball stage when a little is tried in cold water. Hips Back Again In Style Forecast

Early fashions of the winter season have established definite lines for hip again. At least hip again will be a prominent fashion winter finds in the wardrobe. This means that the straight, narrow lines of the winter season, which appear in many of the new styles of the new winter wardrobe, the chief characteristics of which are their stiffness and pliability. These materials, capable of being made into the hip again, especially pleasing because they have arrived from abroad, one being in old rose velvet and another in gold brocade in a checked pattern with a tiny flower in each square. Both are in use in the so-called-hip fashion. No trimming is used on either of the gowns, so beautiful are the high-

Cooking without a cook

From the beginning, it has been the lot of women to bend wearily over a fire and cook for hungry mate and offspring.

Today, the housewife is given freedom from this old-time chore. The Electric Range is automatic. All that the modern home-keeper has to do is to put the food in the oven, touch a switch or two, and set the little time clock.

Her task is done. She goes about other affairs, at home or abroad, forgetting the kitchen, and with the comfortable feeling that when dinner-time comes she will find a perfectly cooked meal ready for the table.

You can see the Electric Range in several types, at our display room
