M. C. Hart Studying At Columbia U.

Melvin C. Hart, principal of the Baldwin High School, is at Columbia University, New York City, today, active in his third summer's work towards his master of Arts degree in education. Mr. Hart has been attending Columbia, which is considered to have one of the best schools of administrative education in the world, for the past two summers, and expects to go again next summer, at the end of which time he will receive his master's degree.

Mr. Hart received his bachelor of science degree from Michigan State College, and, after teaching one year, came to Birmingham, to become principal of the Baldwin High School, six years ago this September. He enters on this seventh year in his position this fall.

Through his work at Columbia and through the contacts he makes there, Mr. Hart has received some splendid ideas for the improvement of the school systems, some of which he has put into practice. There were more than 13,000 students, from every county in the world, at summer school at Columbia last year, and an increased number is expected this summer.

Mr. Hart left last Thursday night for New York, and will return late in August, the course lasting for six weeks.

PLAN START ON G. M. C. PLANT

$8,000,000 Yellow Coach Works To Begin In Township

Actual construction on the new $8,000,000 plant of the Yellow Truck and Coach manufacturing company in Pontiac will be started next week it was learned yesterday. Some work has been going on recently, but this, it was pointed out, was merely preliminary.

To really understand the business of this newest of Pontiac's great industries in the building, one must visit the grounds.

Just off South boulevard a hundred or so feet is a spot where the earth has been recently turned over. This is where President Paul W. Seiler turned the first sod for the new plant Tuesday.

From here looking southward a lovely scene that the foreman, the boss, soldiers and convict guards and others did not see, because of the Village Commission of Bloomfield Hills held on Tuesday, the 5th day of July, 1927, and the first sod was turned from the ground, each member using a shovel.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal of the Village of Bloomfield Hills, this 5th day of July, 1927.

W. M. STORY,
Village Clerk.
