The Woman's Page

Society

(Continued from Society Page, Part 1)

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Palmer, and their two young sons, of Pittsburgh, Pa., were the guests of Mr. Palmer's sister, Mrs. John H. Marlotte, of Pierce street, over the week-end.

Mrs. Leigh Lynch and her children, of Dorchester road, are spending the summer in Rockland, Me.

Mrs. Roy Eyer, of Floyd court, was hostess for a few days recently to her sister, Mrs. Joe Holms, who stopped over on her way to her home in New York from a trip to Australia and the South Sea Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Gaylord and their three children, Foster, Marguerite, and Gordon, of Henrietta street, went to Woodrow Beach, Ont., to spend the week-end with Mrs. Gaylord's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stoddard, Miss Gail Smith and Miss Mary Griffith, of Toledo, O., for the week-end, stayed they visited Miss Griffith's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Moore, formerly of Harmon avenue.

Mrs. F. B. Dickinson, of Southfield avenue, is at Torch Lake, for some time, the guest of Mrs. Harlow Davocks of Dewey street. Mrs. Dickerson motored up with the Davocks last week.

Mrs. F. H. McKinney, of Madison avenue, left with her three children for northern Michigan, Friday. They will be gone until about the first of August.

Henry Hart, of Lake Park drive, is leaving this week for Europe to be gone for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coney and their daughter, Lucille, of Detroit, and Mrs. John Comey, of Jackson, were the guests over Sunday of the Misses Maud and Nelle Camp, of South Woodward avenue.

Miss Eloise Carnahan of 501 Oakland avenue is home again today from a 10 day visit in Fort Wayne, Indiana and Chicago.

Mrs. Oliver Lowe, of Frank street, is spending the week at Torch Lake recuperating from an operation undergone recently.

Herman Weesman, of Frank street, spent the week-end and the Fourth in Chicago, Ill., visiting friends.

Mrs. Sally West, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been spending a fortnight in Birmingham, is spending the week at Lotus Lake with Mrs. Oliver Lowe. Miss Mary Davidson, of Clawson, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson and their son, by, of Pontiac, visited Mrs. West who is their aunt, at the Lowe cottage over the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Edsell H. Martindale, formerly of 508 west Maple avenue, left recently for Otsego they will reside permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Patton son will serve as the wedding of Miss Mary Katherine Kessell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kessell, and Mac Thomas Whitfield, the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Whitfield, all of Pontiac, Jul. 28. Mrs. Patterson will be one of Miss Kessell's bridesmaids and Mr. Patterson will be an usher.

There are now 87 women scientists employed in the various government departments at Washington.

SUMMER FROCKS IN GAY HUES

Dots and flowers in gay colors are used for the pretty summer dresses. At left above, a dotted voile in odd design with frilled chiffon trimmings. Right, a layer of plum color over cyclamen pink chiffon with large floral print inserted in the apron effect—a Chantal model.

Suggestions Given For Child Dinners

By JEANETTE NORTON

Noon dinners for children up to and through the kindergarten age are often difficult economic problems. In the simple household is meant cooking two dinners. It is the one meat meal for the child, so a special kind, or a substitute, must be provided.

The following menus have been carefully worked out to meet the needs as economically as possible. They include one fish day, and one day when the family roast is cooked early for cold cuts and so that the children get a hot meat. With the fish, which may be broiled fillet of sole, boiled cod, baked potatoes and a creamed vegetable. With the meat serve mashed potatoes and a creamed vegetable. Do not serve soup or broth, for it takes the edge off the appetite and makes the children picky and they do not eat as much as they need and are hungry soon after the meal is over.

First Dinner
Individual Chicken Pie
Creamed Carrots Rice
Junket Milk or Cocoa

Second Dinner
Broiled Chopped Meat Cakes
Mashed Potato Boiled Beet
Bread and Butter Pudding

Third Dinner
Broiled Lamb Chops
Baked Macaroni Peas
Frozen Custard

Fourth Dinner
Stewed Neck of Lamb
Creamed Celery Spinach
Creamed Tapioca Pudding

Fifth Dinner
Boiled Fish, Cream Sauce
Mashed Potato Stewed Tomato
Baked Apples and Cream

Sixth Dinner
Roast Beef Baked Potatoes
Lima Beans Lettuce
Creamy Rice Pudding

In the first dinner, make the cream for the pie of butter, or vegetable fat, and milk a very thin. After stewing the chicken take as much as is needed from bones, cut in small pieces, make a good gravy, and when partially cool fill the pie and bake as usual. Lettuce may be added to any of the dinners simply dressed with a few drops of lemon juice and a few grains of salt. In the second dinner, be careful to make the meat cakes light and not too thick. Serve the beets with a simple sauce.

Cheese may be omitted from the macaroni in the third dinner, butter and cream take its place. Make a good boiled custard and freeze it. In the fourth dinner, cook the lamb well and remove all fat before making the gravy. Select fish in season for boiling. Free it from skin and bones and serve a rich cream sauce or light drawn butter with it. Put the stewed tomato through a puree sieve to remove all the seeds, scallop and thicken to the consistency of cold honey. The meat for the fifth dinner is from the family roast cooked early to serve cold.

Miss Mabel Maas is specializing in dairy husbandry at the state college, Pullman, Wash., and expects to manage her own dairy farm after graduation.

Miss Helen Nebeker, niece of Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, was recently engaged to teach cooking to soldier cooks in the army.

Princess Ingrid of Sweden 17, is the latest princess rumor has mentioned as being engaged to the prince of Wales.

Miss Kathleen Moore of Castlecomer Ireland, aged 18, routed four men by throwing stones at them when they tried to kidnap her little brother.

52 Issues of The Eccentric $1.50

ORIENTAL GIRLS EDUCATED HERE

Many young girls from the Orient are educated in American colleges. They come from China, Japan, India and everywhere. Two of these are just now of particular interest because of the civil war in China.

One of the former Tangs, Ling, captivating daughter of a Chinese millionaire, graduated some years ago from Barnard college, N. Y., and has been decorated by the Japanese emperor for magnificent charities. She married Wellington Koo, former Chinese minister to the United States and now foreign minister at Peking, where she reigns as the "cosmopolitan aristocrat of feminine China." But her husband's party is rarely host just now.

The other, demure little Chinese Soong, whose Wellesley College days at Macon, Ga., are left under. Her quiet womanly way appealed to another great Chinese statesman, and she became the wife of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, father and first president of the Chinese republic. As his widow she is today idolized by the Nationalists. She graduated some years ago from Barnard college, N. Y., and has been decorated by the Japanese emperor for magnificent charities. She married Wellington Koo, former Chinese minister to the United States and now foreign minister at Peking, where she reigns as the "cosmopolitan aristocrat of feminine China." But her husband's party is rarely host just now.

The other, demure little Chinese Soong, whose Wellesley College days at Macon, Ga., are left under. Her quiet womanly way appealed to another great Chinese statesman, and she became the wife of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, father and first president of the Chinese republic. As his widow she is today idolized by the Nationalists. She graduated some years ago from Barnard college, N. Y., and has been decorated by the Japanese emperor for magnificent charities. She married Wellington Koo, former Chinese minister to the United States and now foreign minister at Peking, where she reigns as the "cosmopolitan aristocrat of feminine China." But her husband's party is rarely host just now.

Two American college girls are the leading feminine figures in official circles of the booming factions now struggling for mastery of the land of eastern promise.

With THE Women OF Today

By MRS. LILLIAN CAMPBELL

Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, Greenwich, Conn., president of the national board of directors of the National Democratic Women's Club of the District of Columbia, presided at the annual board meeting of the National Democratic Women's Club in Washington, D. C., recently. Their meeting was for the purpose of discussing and perfecting the plans and policies of the organization for the coming year.

Former president general Mrs. George Maynard Miner and Mrs. Chas. Russell, vice-president general from Connecticut, were among the out-of-town visitors from Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, wife of former Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, are in Washington, where for husband's retirement, was after attending

MRS. H. S. BROSSEAU

In the speech made by Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, at the recent biennial meeting in Grand Rapids, Mich., she urged the women to "have vision" and to "be a forceful factor in the future of the country." She also urged the importance of the Parent-Teacher Association and the Children's Bureau as safeguards for the welfare of the children of the nation. She declared that "the home is the foundation of the nation" and urged the women to "be a force for righteousness and patriotism."

Mrs. John D. Sherman

The Federation is carrying on an educational campaign in the interests of these measures. Cultural studies by club members are recommended by Mrs. Sherman, but she urges an active participation in present day problems.

Women For Judgeships

Professional and business women's clubs of Southern California have started a drive on Governor Young to have women lawyers named to some of the bench positions which are to be filled soon in Los Angeles County.

Ten superior judgeships and two Municipal Court judgeships are to be filled, and the women have sent resolutions demanding they be given recognition. The name of Miss Georgia Bullock, only woman of the Los Angeles Municipal bench, was put forward as a candidate for the superior bench, and Miss Oda Faulconer, Vice President of the San Fernando Bar Association is being boosted as the successor to Mr. Bullock should she be promoted by Governor Young. The names of a number of other women attorneys in Los Angeles have also been suggested.

Kappa Alpha Theta Meeting

Representatives from seven college chapters and 12 alumnae chapters of Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio attended the district convention of the Kappa Alpha Theta at Huron, O., June 24-25.

Founded in 1870, at DePauw University, Kappa Theta is the oldest college sorority with 54 alumnae chapters and 53 collegiate chapters, the membership total more than 14,000 in the United States and Canada.

WOMEN RULED AGAINST, CLAIM

In the new Congress there are 9 women senators and only four women representatives. Of these three are the wives of former congressmen who was elected while her husband was in office. Congressmen are trying to defraud the govern- ment. Two were elected to fill vacancies caused by the death of the husband and one by appointment. Two were elected to fill the House, therefore, was originally elected on her own reputation. Her own newspaper work.

The Woman's Home Companion cites this information as an indication that the world is still a fruitful field of women, and that equal opportunity is not being used sufficiently. Hundreds of lawyers, both are being still exist, it is pointed out, which discriminates either for or against women.

Recently in Florida married women were debarred from engaging in the real estate business unless they go to court and husband declared "free dealer." This is because married women are not responsible legally for their voluntary contracts, for no representation or consent in the laws of every state, it is said, there is discrimination of the same sort which will cause years of legislation be remedied.

Miss Violet Cordery, 24, has started from England with three companions for an automobile trip around the world.

AMERICAN HOUSEWIVES ARE FOUND ILL-INFORMED REGARDING MEATS

In an institute for the study of meat, the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture and Department of Agriculture has found that the average American housewife is ignorant of the most economical and nutritious meats to buy. Many women, representing many states, were asked questions. Answers were received from 1,000 women. Only one-half of these knew that beef was the most economical meat to buy. Only one-fifth of the women knew that liver was the most economical meat to buy. Only one-fifth of the women knew that liver was the most economical meat to buy. Only one-fifth of the women knew that liver was the most economical meat to buy.

One of the findings of the report is that the average housewife is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat. She is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat. She is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat. She is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat.

Another interesting fact brought out in the report is that the average housewife is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat. She is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat. She is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat. She is not familiar enough with the different cuts of meat.

Three kinds of cooking are necessary to produce tender meat. Three kinds of cooking are necessary to produce tender meat. Three kinds of cooking are necessary to produce tender meat. Three kinds of cooking are necessary to produce tender meat.

Foreign-Born, Dietary

The American housewife is a product of the melting pot. She is a product of the melting pot. She is a product of the melting pot. She is a product of the melting pot.

Americans are a mixture of many nationalities. Americans are a mixture of many nationalities. Americans are a mixture of many nationalities. Americans are a mixture of many nationalities.

The Irish, the Germans, the Italians, the Scandinavians, the Jews, the Negroes, the Mexicans, the Chinese, the Japanese, the Filipinos, the Indians, the Eskimos, the Hawaiians, the Samoans, the Tongans, the Fijians, the Australians, the New Zealanders, the Tasmanians, the Papuans, the Melanesians, the Micronesians, the Polynesians, the Aborigines, the Bushmen, the Hottentots, the Bantus, the Zulus, the Xhosas, the Sothos, the Tswanas, the Pedis, the Venda, the Tsonga, the Ndebele, the Shona, the Matabele, the Mashona, the Barotse, the Lozi, the Kalahari Bushmen, the Namaqua Hottentots, the Cape Coloureds, the Cape Malays, the Griquas, the Basters, the Boers, the Afrikaners, the English, the Irish, the Scots, the Welsh, the Manx, the Cornish, the Breton, the Basque, the Catalan, the Galician, the Portuguese, the Spanish, the French, the Belgian, the Dutch, the German, the Swiss, the Austrian, the Hungarian, the Czech, the Slovak, the Polish, the Russian, the Ukrainian, the Belorussian, the Lithuanian, the Latvian, the Estonian, the Finnish, the Swedish, the Norwegian, the Danish, the Icelandic, the Greenlandic, the Faroese, the Sami, the Inuit, the Aleut, the Yupik, the Chukchi, the Koryak, the Kamchadal, the Itelmen, the Nivkh, the Ainu, the Japanese, the Ryukyuan, the Korean, the Mongolian, the Tuvan, the Buryat, the Kalmyk, the Oirat, the Khalkha, the Inner Mongolian, the Manchu, the Tungusic, the Yakut, the Dolgan, the Evenki, the Even, the Nanai, the Ulchi, the Udege, the Orok, the Negidal, the Oroch, the Samagir, the Yukaghir, the Chuvan, the Kerek, the Alutor, the Koryak, the Chukchi, the Eskimo, the Aleut, the Yupik, the Inuit, the Greenlandic, the Faroese, the Sami, the Icelandic, the Norwegian, the Danish, the Swedish, the Finnish, the Estonian, the Latvian, the Lithuanian, the Belorussian, the Ukrainian, the Russian, the Polish, the Slovak, the Czech, the Hungarian, the Austrian, the Swiss, the German, the Dutch, the Belgian, the French, the Spanish, the Portuguese, the Galician, the Catalan, the Basque, the Breton, the Cornish, the Manx, the Welsh, the Scots, the Irish, the English, the Afrikaners, the Boers, the Basters, the Griquas, the Cape Malays, the Cape Coloureds, the Hottentots, the Bushmen, the Namaqua Hottentots, the Kalahari Bushmen, the Barotse, the Lozi, the Mashona, the Matabele, the Shona, the Ndebele, the Tsonga, the Venda, the Pedis, the Tswanas, the Sothos, the Xhosas, the Zulus, the Bantus, the Hottentots, the Bushmen, the Aborigines, the Polynesians, the Micronesians, the Melanesians, the Papuans, the Australians, the New Zealanders, the Tasmanians, the Fijians, the Tongans, the Samoans, the Hawaiians, the Eskimos, the Indians, the Negroes, the Jews, the Chinese, the Japanese, the Filipinos, the Mexicans, the Italians, the Germans, the Swiss, the Austrians, the Hungarians, the Czechs, the Slovaks, the Poles, the Russians, the Ukrainians, the Belorussians, the Lithuanians, the Latvians, the Estonians, the Finns, the Swedes, the Norwegians, the Danes, the Icelanders, the Greenlanders, the Faroese, the Sami, the Inuit, the Aleuts, the Yupiks, the Chukchis, the Koryaks, the Kamchadals, the Itelmens, the Nivkhs, the Ainu, the Japanese, the Ryukyuans, the Koreans, the Mongolians, the Tuvans, the Buryats, the Kalmyks, the Oirats, the Khalkhas, the Inner Mongolians, the Manchus, the Tungusics, the Yakuts, the Dolgans, the Evenkis, the Evens, the Nanais, the Ulchis, the Udeges, the Oroks, the Negidals, the Orochs, the Samagirs, the Yukaghirs, the Chuvans, the Kereks, the Alutors, the Koryaks, the Chukchis, the Eskimos, the Aleuts, the Yupiks, the Inuits, the Greenlanders, the Faroese, the Sami, the Icelanders, the Norwegians, the Danes, the Swedes, the Finns, the Estonians, the Latvians, the Lithuanians, the Belorussians, the Ukrainians, the Russians, the Poles, the Slovaks, the Czechs, the Hungarians, the Austrians, the Swiss, the Germans, the Dutch, the Belgians, the French, the Spanish, the Portuguese, the Galicians, the Catalans, the Basques, the Bretons