Music Is Soothing— But Not Always

Music is soothing. So, according to the ails, is a certain kind of soap.

But there is a time and place for music to be soothing and Woodward avenue at high noon will not do, according to the Birmingham police department.

It all came about yesterday when a band of itinerant musicians took the village by storm—and a somewhat severe storm it was, too.

Eight, an musicians, more or less accomplished, serenade the streets, then took collection. The police chased them from town—whether as a protective measure to the musicians themselves or because they are said to have been violating a law, has not been revealed.

The Other Chap Says Something

THE 18TH AMENDMENT

The mails have been loaded up with fiery transportation of the opinion of Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., of Pennsylvania, member of congress. It is stated that the 18th amendment has been weighed in the balance and found wanting because—

1. It causes crime and creates criminals.
2. It is temperate, intolerant, and intolerable.
3. It does not insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare, or secure the blessings of liberty, and, therefore, fails in three of the primary purposes for which laws and constitutions and governments exist.
4. Its advocates testify to its failure when they demand more police, greater penalties, larger penitentiaries, bigger appropriations, and additional courts to enforce it.
5. On the same basis we wish to add to his very logical deductions that our law prohibiting murder has been weighed in the balance and found wanting because—
1. It causes crime and creates criminals.
2. It is temperate, intolerant, and intolerable.
3. It does not insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare, or secure the blessings of liberty, and, therefore, fails in three of the primary purposes for which laws and constitutions and governments exist.
4. Its advocates testify to its failure when they demand more penitentiaries, bigger appropriations, and additional courts to enforce it.

disposed to await a corroboration, the announcement seems to be trustworthy enough, for it comes from the Detroit office of S. W. Ayer, the Philadelphia agency in charge of the Ford advertising.

That rumors of the coming of a new Ford car have been frequent for many months, and as from just a week to the day before the Ayer announcement, the last detail was made by Mr. William J. Emerson, the Ford editor of "The Dearborn Independent," who—

"As far as I know, there is no chance to be made in the car. It seems hardly likely that a change would be made with the Model T cars on the roads already and business going along as usual, if a little slow. But business has been slow in all lines."

Possibly, the Ford editor was too busy composing "Mr. Ford's Own Page" for the Ford paper to keep himself fully informed as to what was going on in the office of Ford officers or the Ford plants. Possibly his denial was merely an awkward method of Mr. William J. Emerson, the Ford editor, for it that—

"With the new Ford we proposed in the Detroit office, which we have created, on the same basis of quality production method, always working for high quality, low price and constant service."

"I began to believe it is true after all. We can at least hope and pray for the best. Detroit needs the business."

LINDBERGH FILMS READY FOR HOMES

The drama of Lindbergh's triumph is to be put into American homes in motion pictures by the Eastman Kodak company.

Four minute feature pictures of the greatest aviation achievement of history were ready for sale in amateur projector less than two weeks after the remarkable event. Many thousands of homes already have projectors.

This picture is one of the first of the "cinetrage" home movies in drama, and contains travel, and events of outstanding historical importance, which the Eastman Kodak Company is releasing periodically for amateur movie machines in the same way that records are issued for phonographs.

MUSIC RECITAL GIVEN IN CHURCH

Nine pupils were presented in a piano recital Tuesday evening at the First Baptist Church by their teacher, Miss Beryl Hayes.

Mrs. Eva Hight, mezzo-soprano, recited. Richard Gibbons and Dean Smith opened the program with a duet, and each performed in solo after-act.

Dorothy Wright and Nadine Hooper, Alice Homberger, Margie Kildner, Betty Emery, Frances Frye and Wilbur Nicholson also played solos and Kildner and Emery closed the program with a duet, Moschowski's "Spanish Dance, Op. 12, No. 1" and "The Village Song." Two groups first, "O Night! O Life!" and "Tired Hands," and second "The Goodbye" and "The Four Night Love Song." These numbers are all by Sanderson.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IS GIVEN FOR GUILD

Leaders of the Home Mission society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, gathered at a birthday luncheon last Thursday. More than 80 members were present.

Mrs. D. E. Johnson was the speaker. The table was decorated to represent the four seasons. Mrs. William Bloomer, birthday secretary of the society, was in charge of the luncheon.

ESTIMATES SOUGHT

Village Manager James W. Parry today has instructions to prepare maps and diagrams for the installation of a sanitary sewer on Hazel street between two Elm street and return them to the village commission. The estimated cost of the proposed project also will be returned to the commission.

ROCHESTER HERE SUNDAY

The Birmingham Merchants' local baseball aggregation, will be prominently featured in a contest Sunday when they meet the Rochester Independents. The game will be played on the baseball field on east Maple avenue.

Who's Random?
 "Was a hard and bloody battle at the pistol range. At last the instructor called: 'Fire at Random!'"

After the carnage had ceased one Freshman still stood with his pistol in "ready," a full clip in it. "They, you!" yelled the instructor. "Why didn't you shoot?" "I'm waiting for a student to stick his head around the parapet."

At Calgary, Alberta, the discovery of seven aces in a deck of cards used in a poker game caused a shooting affray in which five were killed.
