A Good Friend May Be a Bad Executor

Your FRIEND, appointed as Executor of your estate, may accept the unpolicited responsibility in the light of a sacred obligation and do his best.

But will his untrained bast be good enough for shis difficult task? Can you afford to ea-trust the future comfort and happiness of your family to inexperienced hands?

why the Trust Department of the First National Bank is better equipped to give your affairs the capable expert attention that is essential for the protection of your loved ones.
