The Moore, Ellsbeth will present "The Willow Tree" at the Grand Theatre for next Monday evening, March 21st, prior to its New York opening.

"The Willow Tree" is a musical version of the international success by Bennett and Harewood. The story concerns Edward Hamilton, an Englishman of some position who was unable to get together with his not enough money to marry Mary Temple, a beautiful woman of Japanese-Garden house, sleeping on a rice paddy, etc. He tries to leave in all the natives suggest the spell of Japan and yields to it. His favorite legend is that of the great hero, Torii, who, being a warrior of the world had been forced to fight and slay his own wife in a forest marriage. A beautiful woman comes to him and begs, after being his heart to her, and she being him so much, he forgets Japan. Then messengers come begging the great warrior to go to the defense of the Mikado, but Torii, before being obliged by the woman he loves, leaves his life, the beautiful princess whose origin, being out of the heart of the willow tree near his home, has to go out and out down the willow tree which casts too much shade on their hut. This causes the death of this beautiful woman, and she is buried in the heart of the willow tree. So Torii returns to Japan and helps save her from the enemy. Full of the legend of Torii, Hamilton lives in love again.

Howard March is featured in the role of Hamilton and appearing him are such well known musical...

BONSTELLE

Thrills and chills and a lot of laughing rattle and rattle in one another as the fascinating melodrama, "The Ghost Train," has been attraction at the Grand Theatre, Detroit, and is now being shown in the Grand Theatre, Birmingham. Barely do they come into the room of the theatre when the picture is held in its place that kept London in its face for a solid year and was brought to this country and the A. H. Woods house for a season in New York run for a season.

A party of travellers are marooned in the railway station on the outskirts of a town in England. In their country they become a party to the thrilling incidents which unfold to a climax there by a July Sunday. The picture is a real picture of a night terror that has been the cause of the most thrilling and terrifying action.

"The Ghost Train" is a picture of the type ever presented on the American stage. It was written by American, and is a real picture of a night terror that has been the cause of the most thrilling and terrifying action.

The entire action of the picture takes place in the railway station. The characters are very simple and are all presented in a most dramatic and vivid.

Birmingham Has a Furniture Store

COMES the announcement from the Truax Hardware Store that another store adjoining its present headquarters on E. Maple has been taken to allow for the establishment of a furniture salesroom and showroom.

Will be able to supply every Furniture Need

The store when completely stocked (this will follow in a short time) will contain practically every furniture need, and anything not stocked can be ordered from samples or from a catalogue. We will be in a position to sell you anything of a furniture nature.

Quality Furniture will Feature Stock

The furniture which you may purchase from this store will be of the highest quality. Every article will carry our guarantee and you may be assured that nothing will be sold that can not come up to the standards and policy which has made this store its reputation.

Only Furniture Store in Birmingham

Birmingham needs a store of this kind. In the past, Birmingham residents have been forced to shop outside to obtain things for the home. And knowing that the people of this town wish only the best we have governed our stock accordingly.

The store adjacent to our present hardware headquarters has been rented for a furniture salesroom and will contain nothing more than this stock.

Store will be Open Evenings
