

NEED IS CITED OF TOLERANCE

It was the guest of Melvin Hart at the local Baldwin High School. Habits and Attitudes. "Who who live upon this earth are the personifications of habits and attitudes," said Mr. Keyworth. "Our habits are made up of our inherited customs and traditions and our attitudes are composed of feelings and emotions, neither of which are based fundamentally upon logic. You who live in Birmingham, for instance, where few foreigners reside, are naturally given little chance to meet the opinions of those whose racial and national traditions and customs differ from your own; this, of course, results in what may be termed an ignorant fundamentalism—a perfectly natural result of your social inheritance. And the same thing happens when a foreigner comes to your midst—very naturally differs with you because of his different racial and national traditions and customs. However, if both kinds are to live together peacefully, they must be tolerant toward each other.

Democracy On Trial—Democracy in the United States, although the best experiment of its kind in the history of the world, is not a definite success; indeed, because of the great influx of the foreigner to our shores during the past generation we may gravely contemplate the immediate future success of even the survival of such a democracy. But we did allow, even invite, the foreigner to our shores, and now we are faced with the problem of imbuing him with the American spirit and tradition so that man in the mass in this country will be agreed on certain fundamentals of national welfare and conduct. This requires much time; it cannot all be done in the schools, for the parent must here lend a hand in the moulding of the men and women of tomorrow—who will become our citizens, our leaders, the makers or breakers of national existence.

Rome Fell—History records the building and the falling of the great Roman Empire. History proves that the world's greatest leaders have been citizens of a country whose strain is pure with its own nationalism, unbroken by the intermingling of other nations. Athens was once a proud boast of a Grecian nationalism; it developed great thinkers and a fine people. It builded national prosperity. It became loose in its morals, and it lost its wealth. In order to save itself it introduced the custom of inter-racial marriages, and this was broken its strain of pure nationalism. Greece, once the land of philosophers, artists, scientists, and other great creators, has fallen and its people come to America to shine our shoes and feed our stomachs.

Faces Great Problem—"The United States of America faces the same great problem that Greece was unable to deal with successfully. We have within our national boundaries nearly 120 million people, representing every possible habit and attitude on earth. Can we weld all these habits and attitudes into one that breathes the pure spirit and tradition of Americanism? That is our problem. It is a case where ever agency we have at our disposal must co-operate its resources, if American ideals are to survive. Nations, like individuals, can live or die; nations, like individuals, personify their habits and their ideals. America no longer consists of but a Puritan strain; it embraces every nationality on earth. Let us admit this fact and cope with it tolerantly and according to the way of the future."

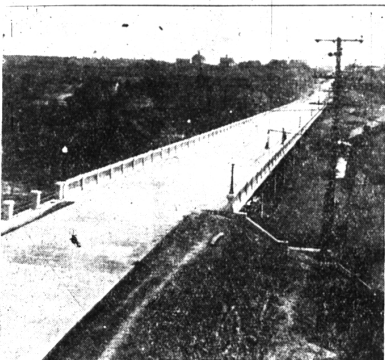

He was the guest of Melvin Hart at the local Baldwin High School. Habits and Attitudes. "Who who live upon this earth are the personifications of habits and attitudes," said Mr. Keyworth. "Our habits are made up of our inherited customs and traditions and our attitudes are composed of feelings and emotions, neither of which are based fundamentally upon logic. You who live in Birmingham, for instance, where few foreigners reside, are naturally given little chance to meet the opinions of those whose racial and national traditions and customs differ from your own; this, of course, results in what may be termed an ignorant fundamentalism—a perfectly natural result of your social inheritance. And the same thing happens when a foreigner comes to your midst—very naturally differs with you because of his different racial and national traditions and customs. However, if both kinds are to live together peacefully, they must be tolerant toward each other.

Democracy On Trial—Democracy in the United States, although the best experiment of its kind in the history of the world, is not a definite success; indeed, because of the great influx of the foreigner to our shores during the past generation we may gravely contemplate the immediate future success of even the survival of such a democracy. But we did allow, even invite, the foreigner to our shores, and now we are faced with the problem of imbuing him with the American spirit and tradition so that man in the mass in this country will be agreed on certain fundamentals of national welfare and conduct. This requires much time; it cannot all be done in the schools, for the parent must here lend a hand in the moulding of the men and women of tomorrow—who will become our citizens, our leaders, the makers or breakers of national existence.

Rome Fell—History records the building and the falling of the great Roman Empire. History proves that the world's greatest leaders have been citizens of a country whose strain is pure with its own nationalism, unbroken by the intermingling of other nations. Athens was once a proud boast of a Grecian nationalism; it developed great thinkers and a fine people. It builded national prosperity. It became loose in its morals, and it lost its wealth. In order to save itself it introduced the custom of inter-racial marriages, and this was broken its strain of pure nationalism. Greece, once the land of philosophers, artists, scientists, and other great creators, has fallen and its people come to America to shine our shoes and feed our stomachs.

Faces Great Problem—"The United States of America faces the same great problem that Greece was unable to deal with successfully. We have within our national boundaries nearly 120 million people, representing every possible habit and attitude on earth. Can we weld all these habits and attitudes into one that breathes the pure spirit and tradition of Americanism? That is our problem. It is a case where ever agency we have at our disposal must co-operate its resources, if American ideals are to survive. Nations, like individuals, can live or die; nations, like individuals, personify their habits and their ideals. America no longer consists of but a Puritan strain; it embraces every nationality on earth. Let us admit this fact and cope with it tolerantly and according to the way of the future."

ROCHESTER BRIDGE OPENS

The new bridge at Rochester was opened to traffic yesterday. The bridge is 810 feet long and carries a 28-foot roadway and a 5-foot sidewalk. However, the foundations are so designed to bear additional width, so that when the D. U. R. franchise, which permit car tracks within the road's right of way, expire, the bridge may be widened to a 40-foot roadway with two, 5-foot sidewalks.

BOWLING

Enthusiasm among the eight teams composing the Masonic Bowling League, which meets Friday evenings at Blackner's bowling alley, increases with every meeting, according to reports. The Barbers Men's League, meeting Monday and Tuesday evenings is also developing a good deal of interest.

The following table resulted from last Friday night's play in the Masonic League:

Team	Win	Loss
Marksmen	8	1
Fellowcrafts	7	2
Overseers	5	3
Last Masters	4	5
Architects	4	5
Quartermen	3	6
Entered Apprentices	2	7
Builders	2	7

The Gray Sweet Shop carried off the honors in Monday night's bowling at the Blackner Alleys. The candy store boys won 9 games out of 9. Eight teams were at play Monday night, including 40 men. The Birmingham Cleaners team, had high individual score, with 546 for three games.

The standing of the teams for Monday night follows:

Team	Win	Loss
Gray Sweet Shop	9	0
Birmingham Cleaners	7	2
Star Motor Coach	5	4
Pham Dept. Store	5	4
Mulholland's	5	4
Bidwell's Billiards	4	5
Dodge and Packard	2	7
Thomson and Cotton	0	9

Individual totals were:

Player	1	2	3	Total
Pham Dept. Store	124	110	150	384
Rayner	130	140	116	386
Davidson	150	143	176	475
Williams	150	115	176	441
Bierer	180	252	147	579
Grand Total	740	760	745	2245

bowling games on the Blackner alleys were carried off by the Firemen, but they do not lead the League standing. This honor is divided between the Odd Fellows and the Barbers, each having won five games out of six played. Eight teams took part in Tuesday night's playing with Sulky of the Barbers team holding the highest individual score of 579 for three games.

The standing for the Tuesday night teams follows:

Team	Win	Loss
Odd Fellows	5	1
Barbers	5	1
Peck Tailors	5	2
Lumber Co.	4	4
Firemen	3	3
Bell Bros.	2	4
McBride	1	5
Eccentric	0	6

Individual totals were:

Player	1	2	3	Total
Bell Bros. vs. McBride	121	192	179	492
Frost	113	147	150	410
Peck Tailors	118	127	148	401
Butterill	118	127	118	363
N. Bell	137	155	120	412

Rainy and Slushy Days ARE HERE!

The season of Zippers and Galoshes has settled upon us!

This year's style of Outer Footwear is in complete assortment of sizes for—
Men, Women and Children

Rubbers for Milder Days
Warm and Comfortable For Children, Men and Women

Williams' Boot Shop
121 WEST MAPLE PHONE 117

NEW TEA ROOM PLANS OPENING

Rare Furnishings To Adorn Room in Birmingham Theater Building

Announcement is made today of the opening of the Marguerite Sweet tea room in the new Birmingham Theater building, on Woodward avenue south of Maple coincident with the opening of the building which tentatively is Nov. 16.

Besides luncheon and fountain service, Mrs. Sweet, owner of the tea room plans to carry a complete line of foreign and domestic changes and special good food.

The room will be furnished with a color scheme of red and black. The chairs will be covered with red leather and several ornaments brought to this country by Mrs. Sweet, which have recently returned from a world tour, will decorate the tea room.

One of the features will be the Italian Marble fountain which is in gold and black.

"There is every reason for a tea room of this sort to be popular in Birmingham, I believe," said Mrs. Sweet, "and we shall aim at ways to give the very best."

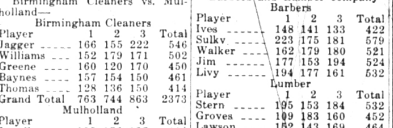

When your clothes leave home they are in good company at the Modern Laundry

Whether you want Finished Work or Rough Dry—Modern Laundry work is so finished—so exquisitely done that it pleases the most fastidious.

Rough Dry - 10c lb.

All working apparel is washed and dried Handkerchiefs and flat work are ironed.

BIRMINGHAM ADDRESS—
Field Building
West Maple
F. W. Brede, Jr.,
Sec. and Treas. Telephone 1750

NOVEMBER PLANTING

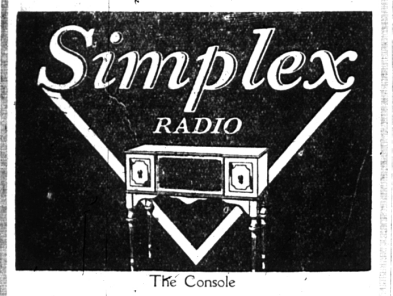

FOR planting of trees and shrubs November is the ideal season. Plants are now fully dormant and may be moved with the least disturbance of the root system.

We have a full stock of plants at this time, whereas in the late spring some varieties may be out of stock.

Allow us to recommend planting arrangements for the home grounds.

The CORYELL NURSERY

NURSERIES AT
Birmingham, Southfield and Utica
HEADQUARTERS AT West Maple Avenue Birmingham

Simplex RADIO

The Console

Simplex

THE original single dial instrument—FIRST to employ three stages of audio amplification—FIRST with a single dial calibrated in Station Wave Lengths—and now—FIRST with a troubleproof BATTERYLESS Radio.

$250.00

Tune in on the Simplex Program, WGHP, Sundays, 2:30-3:00

Model 27 Series

ARBORPHONE

All You Can Ask of a Radio
Priced $65.00

Bird Electric
111 East Maple Ave. Phone 90

ORDER INSURANCE FOR VOLUNTEERS

Firemen To Be Covered By Larger Policies At Commission's Orders

Members of the volunteer fire department of Birmingham will be covered by insurance in the future, according to a resolution passed by the village commission Monday night.

Manager James W. Parry is authorized to arrange for group accident policies which will allow $4,000 in case of death and $15 weekly for disability. Formerly, firemen hurt in responding to an alarm received but $7 a week compensation.

The move of the commission followed a request made by Chief William Olsen who declared the men were taking too many chances for the village without proper protection.

"Business is to be done with it," H. Howarth who will represent the Travelers Insurance company.

LOOK FOR OUR REXALL ONE CENT SALE

SHAIN'S DRUGS

West Maple Ave. Birmingham

The Rexall Drug Store

Four Registered Pharmacists

Miss E. J. Bassett Mr. C. J. Shain
Mr. Frank Willey Mr. G. E. Cook

Young Men.... who are going to be successful

Your patronage is listed among the most valuable assets of this bank. For our continued success depends on yours—and yours depends largely on the services and facilities that we can render.

No business man ever made a big success in modern business without a good banking connection. In most cases, the really successful men have learned to use wisely not just one or two, but ALL the services and accommodations that a progressive bank can offer.

The facilities of the Birmingham Savings Bank are complete. We are anxious to place them at your disposal. If you are just starting in business, or if you are planning for the day when you will—come in and have a confidential chat with us about your affairs.

Grow With Birmingham's New Bank

— THE —

Birmingham Savings Bank
118 S. Woodward Ave.

Capital - $200,000.00 Surplus - $50,000.00

OFFICERS DIRECTORS

Judson Bradley - - - President
Lawrence W. Martindale - Cashier
John C. Lawson - Vice-President
Charles J. Shain - Vice-President
Walter L. Moreland - Asst. Cashier

SEYMOUR D. ADAMS
HARRY ALLEN
LUTHER D. ALLEN
JUDSON BRADWAY
ROBERT W. CHESNIS
ROLLA J. CORYELL
JOHN C. LAWSON

L. W. MARTINDALE
FRED V. QUARTON
CHARLES J. SHAIN
JAMES VERNON, JR.
JAMES W. TAYLOR
HARLEY D. WARNER
ALBERT W. WABBY