CHURCH HEADS SPEAK HERE

Bishops Page And Smith Take Active Part In Sunday Services

Two distinguished clergymen from out-of-town Birmingham were guests here last Sunday and took part in the services at both the Episcopal Church and the Episcopal Church of Detroit. The Rt. Rev. H. Lester Smith, formerly pastor of the First Methodist Church of Detroit, was the speaker at the morning service of the Episcopal Church here. He was the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert M. Atkins. A class of 15 was confirmed in the Episcopal Church Sunday by the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, bishop

SPEEDERS PAY FINES IN COURT

Four speeders were arraigned Monday morning in Judge Floyd S. Buck's justice court and fined $10 each. The men, all of whom pleaded guilty, were William H. Fuller, 8240 Lawton avenue, Detroit, and Trygve Hove, 2032 Hancock avenue, Detroit, both arrested by Patrolman William Green Saturday for driving 35 miles an hour on north Woodward avenue. Frank Ben, Jr., 97 Roselawn drive, Pontiac, arrested by Patrolman Green for driving 35 miles an hour on south Woodward avenue; and William Steinberger, 8502 West Jefferson, arrested by Patrolman Edward Myers.

BIRMINGHAM 'OVER THE TOP' IN-N-Y DRIVE

Village, Hills, Subscribes $6,548 In $6,000 Goal

WORKERS ARE PRAISED

Birmingham and vicinity, including Bloomfield Hills, have gone "over the top" in the recent campaign for 1928 subscriptions to the Y. M. C. A. drive; the $6,548 quota set for the workers reached a total of $6,548 when the final tallies were made at a dinner held in the Baldwin High school cafeteria Monday night. A number of contributions which have not yet been received will probably boost the total receipts to nearly $7,000, in the opinion of Robert D. Lynd, secretary of the drive.

Franklin Village

The fact that Franklin Village is attracting so many people who intend building permanent homes there, need not obscure the fact that these properties are equally desirable from an investment standpoint. Strategic location, careful planning, and wise restrictions indicate that this will be one of the most favored developments anywhere in the Bloomfield Hills section. It will be to your advantage to see it soon.

HOUSES IN CONFUSION AS HUNTERS LEAVE FOR HILLS

"Mary, did you sew up that rip in my suede jacket? Where's the fish you got? Mugsy, have the kids been with those shells again? Now what did I do with my high top boots?"

It does not seem to be in the basement, where you had it last. The kids have only been playing with some old empty shells. The new ones are in the no-man's-land, where they can't get at them. I sent your boots to the cobler's to have them mended. This is in a very weary and resigned tone of voice.

The WORLD and All by CHARLES

"THAT POOR, BLIND GUY." Julius Jones is a man I like. He sells life insurance, and you know how people dodge life insurance salesmen, because most people do not like to run the risk of insuring their survivors against poverty, in case of their death.

CHURCH PLANNING CENTENNIAL FUND

Episcopalians At Dinner In Hills To Discuss Future Of Drive
Plans for the Episcopal Centennial Fund were discussed at a dinner given at 7 p. m. Monday by George T. Hendrie, at his home in the Hills.

AUTO TURTLES, ALL ESCAPE

Occupants Narrowly Miss Injuries In Bloomfield Accident

Two persons escaped injury Sunday when their cars collided at Bloomfield Hills Village, one of the cars overturning and throwing its occupants out. Sam Wolpert, 1816 Thompson court, Detroit, was thrown from his car as it tumbled into the ditch when he bumped into the rear of a car driven by Mrs. William McDougall, 1224 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, demolishing her car and seriously wounding her. Mrs. McDougall was stopped for the red light at Long Lake road, westward, avenue, going south. Wolpert evidently did not see the light, police said, and crashed into the back of her car.

BIRMINGHAM FREE FROM ACCIDENTS

Birmingham joined Oakland County in a quiet week-end so far as accidents go, last Saturday and Sunday. Not a single accident was reported here with a speckler arrested. The only accident reported here was a collision between a Buick and a Packard. Sheriff Frank Schram.

TRIP THWARTED

Robin Which Lingers In North Fordland Summer Meets Death

He who hesitates is lost, somebody announced a thousand years ago. Robin found it out Sunday. Robin had been planning to head south for several weeks, but the unusually pleasant Indian summer, with its springlike weather, was too tempting. So Robin kept putting off his departure.

Both Uncle Sam and the state of Michigan have provided laws for shooting and having in his possession a robin.

TROY BUILDING TO BE OPENED

Four Speakers To Participate In Dedication Of Township Hall

Four speakers are scheduled to appear on the informal program at the formal opening of the new Troy Township Hall at the Water and Troy roads Saturday afternoon. They are, William M. Brewer, chairman of the Oakland County board of auditors, Fred Dewey, Detroit, Mrs. Ruby Randall and Miss Rhodie Viles, well known residents of Troy Township. Both the latter speakers will trace the history of the township while Mr. Brewer will describe briefly the activities of the board of auditors. Mr. Dewey's subject has not been announced.
