GARRICK
Miss Grace George in "The Road to Rome" is to continue to delight Detroit theatergoers at the Garrick Theater for another week...

LAFAYETTE
Ever since his "Man from Home" days William Hodge has been a welcome guest to this city...

Through the play runs such a spirit. The wit is modest and times almost in the slang of today. The drama is powerful, majestic...

And in the present spirit it seems almost surprising that Miss George, all that she has given to the audience. The personification of this passionate, devoted wife is so brilliant...

There is nothing quite so thrilling, nor by the way so wholesome, as a good Broadway play. This is what Sidney Howard sets forth in his dramatic comedy "The Silver Cord"...

Strike witty dialogue and sparkling repartee combined by Mr. Howard in his story of Mrs. Phelps, a middle-aged widow, still perfectly still charming, very well-to-do...

Laura Hope Crews, who is known as the greatest actress in the world, is in the play. Even when it comes to choosing their wives she feels that "Mother knows best." The laugh comes when Mrs. Phelps has to face Robert's fiancee and the wife David brings home from abroad...

Though comedy is not lacking it is the powerful, personal, emotional sweep of the drama that makes it a universal success.
