WITH WOMEN OF TODAY

BY MRS. LILLIAN CAMPBELL

How would you like to be mother to several hundred girls? That is virtually what the so-called "personnel worker" for a large corporation is expected to be. Miss Carrie Hudnall of Kansas City, Mo., can tell you all about it for she holds that position with the Commerce Trust company of that city.

It is her duty to listen to complaints and render sympathy and advice to the women employes of the banking company. Many of the 200 girls employed are filling their first position. Some have come from small towns and must adjust themselves to the city environment. Homesick girls, lovelick girls, girls who are physically ill, all come to Miss Hudnall for advice and cheer.

Miss Hudnall began her business career in Denison, Texas, from which city she went to Boston, where she had a similar position to the one she now holds.

Demand More Voice
Women delegates to the world conference on Faith and Order at Lausanne, Switzerland, have appealed for greater recognition of their sex in councils of the church. "We do all the work in the churches and we want more say in their direction," said one.

Wants Garden Club
Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the secretary of commerce, is always keenly interested in the work of the girl scouts. She is giving considerable attention to their project to start a garden club in Washington, D. C. Children's gardens are springing up in all large cities as a result of the scout activities and the efforts of the National Plant, Fruit and Flower Guild.

FASHION HINTS

Whatever one thinks of English fashion, there can be no doubt that the English have taught the remainder of the world, including Paris and New York, what to wear on its feet with sport clothes. The woman who appears in a sport suit with 100-gauge gossamer hose and Louis XV heels is now becoming a rarity while the Scotch and Irish brogue is no longer confined to the tongue.

Gloves of fine calfskin are cutted with silver or gold leather.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINT

Ham and eggs is generally considered a breakfast dish. The ham is usually fried or broiled and the eggs fried in the ham fat. The same ingredients are used for dinner or luncheon in the following menu and combined with potatoes in a one-dish meal.

Today's Recipes

Scalloped Potatoes, Ham and Eggs—Two hard boiled eggs, two cups diced potatoes, one-half cup minced ham, one and one-half cups white sauce, three-fourths cup bread crumbs, one tablespoon butter. Slice the eggs and arrange in a baking dish in alternate layers with the diced potatoes. Sprinkle each layer with the minced ham and cover with the white sauce. Sprinkle the top with crumbs, dot with butter, and bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are brown. One-half cup of grated cheese may be substituted for the minced ham.

Sliced Tomatoes with French Dressing—Peel and slice ripe tomatoes, arrange on lettuce and serve with French dressing made as follows:
French Dressing—One-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon mustard, paprika, one-half teaspoon sugar, six tablespoons salad oil, one-half teaspoon onion juice, two tablespoons vinegar. Mix the dry ingredients and add to the oil. Add the onion juice and vinegar and stir until it thickens. A small piece of ice added before stirring mingles the process.

Brown Betty—Two cups stale bread crumbs, two tablespoons butter, two cups sliced apples, two-thirds cup sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half cup water. Mix the bread crumbs with melted butter, put a layer in a greased baking dish, add a layer of apples sprinkled with sugar mixed with cinnamon. Repeat until the material is used, having crumbs on top. Add water and bake in a slow oven until the apples are cooked. Rhubarb or peaches may be used in place of the apples.

Chowder—These are a kind of stew but usually classified as a soup.

They may be served as a dish at dinner, when they are thick. They are the first course at a meal that case should be thin. A small chowder was a fish dish the name has been extended to vegetables combinations.

Style Whimsies
Next winter we shall see many velvet tailored suits trimmed with bands of shaved fur, as well as marvelous velvet evening capes.

Many Paris dress designers are using shaded velvet for their evening capes; and for evening dresses of muselinc velvet, especially in white.

A toque of Rebour's is enjoying a great vogue in Paris. The crown is of felt, almost entirely covered with wide black and blue velvet ribbon platted like a basket.

Because the plan of carrying her as a passenger in the Columbia, Charles A. Levine's transatlantic plane, in an attempted return flight to New York, was not deemed feasible by air experts, Miss Mabel Boll, New York society girl, has lost the opportunity of an ocean trip by air. She is shown in two poses. Levine is said to have favored the plan, but Captain Hincheliffe, the pilot, objected.

Bogart, of Detroit, at her home on Lone Pine road, Miss Bogart became the bride of Maxwell Austin, also of Detroit, Saturday.

At their new home, Christ Church rectory, on Cranbrook road, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Marquis entertained the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth, and Mrs. Forsyth, of east Maple avenue, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Booth, of "Cranbrook," and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Warth, of Pierce street, at dinner Friday evening.

Happy Housewives

Happiness, of course is a relative term. We don't all see eye to eye. Nevertheless every woman must acknowledge that the wearisome, never-ending drudgery of the old-fashioned housekeeping does not make for very happy days.

The new housekeeping does away with all this. Electricity steps in to give rest to tired hands—with saving of time and work and money.

Washing, ironing, sweeping, are done electrically, in little time and at small cost. Table cooking is at once a pleasure and a relief. Leisure for rest and enjoyment has come into housekeeping.

This Tire Has "Fingers"

THREE grooved "rails" of tempered rubber for swift, vibrationless travel—two rows of "fingers" ready, like outstretched hands, to grip and to hold the highway when you step on the brake or "give her the gas"—that is the Hargreaves tread. Study it! See how, when the tire flattens for a quick start or stop, the fingers take hold.

Here is safety, smoothness and long life for you. Enjoy them!
