CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

This is Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell as they appeared the first time they celebrated their wedding anniversary, 10 years after they were married 40 years ago today.

This is Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell as they appeared the first time they celebrated their wedding anniversary, 10 years after they were married 40 years ago today.

Dr. and Mrs. N. T. Shan, of Annapolis, Md., entertained Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mitchell, of Brown street, on a 140-mile motor trip through Canada Monday, stopping at Windsor, Lemington and Kingsville. But that is not all. When they turned on to Brown street at about 3 p. m. Monday the Mitchell home was ablaze with light. "Now I wonder, whose there," murmured Mr. Mitchell to his wife. The Mitchell and the Shans cautiously approached the house, but the ladies were too obvious to mean business, so they bravely pushed open the front door. "Congratulations and congratulations," greeted them, and then Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell realized that their friends had not been invited. For Monday was the golden wedding anniversary of George H. Mitchell, of "George and Han," as they are affectionately known by most of Birmingham. They had had 50 years of matrimony, and would not let the occasion pass over without any fireworks. "But we couldn't do it," George said, happily.
