EXCHANGITES SEE THEIR GOLF FORM

Club Members Study Game From Movies Shown During Luncheon

Motion pictures of contestants in the recent Rotary-Exchange club golf tournament, held at Oakland Hills Country club, were shown to the Exchangites Tuesday noon at Northwood Inn, Royal Oak, by George R. Averill, publisher of the Eccentric. The film revealed the drives of all the golfers at the first tee, as well as a great many close-ups of work on the fairways, bunkers, and putting greens.

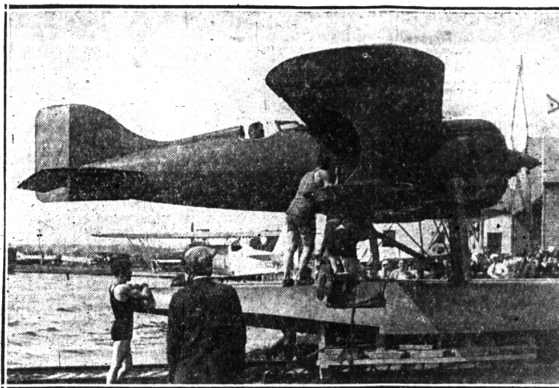

Mr. Averill also ran off several hundred feet of pictures taken during his recent trip to Isle Royale, Lake Superior, and finished up with two reels of the Lindbergh flight and return to Washington.

Next week Broadus-Tarke, eight year-old local violinist, is expected to be on the Exchangites program. Young Broadus is beginning a tour of the Keith-Albee vaudeville circuit.

Hundreds of young lass in the state fish hatcheries at St. Paul were killed during an electrical storm.

The funeral of Katherine Seberforge, a German descendant of Blackfoot, Eng., was attended by 30 ministers ranging from 24 to 38 inches tall.

NAVY BUILDS A MYSTERIOUS PLANE FOR SPEEDING

Lieutenant A. J. Williams, crack navy flyer, is shown in the cockpit of a new navy special speed plane at Port Washington, L. I. He expects to shatter many existing speed records if the plane comes up to expectations and is hopeful of competing in the Schneider cup races in Italy in September.

ONE MORE PAYMENT AND IT'S MINE, DECLARE AUTOISTS AS THEY PAY

It is not the woman, always, but the driver, who pays and pays, according to the many male autoists who each month leave their dollar or two at police headquarters as penalties for minor traffic violations.

Daily at police headquarters many of these small penalties are exacted from the more or less careless, or at any rate, thoughtless motorists. If they are neither thoughtful nor careless, in the words of one police officer, they the fates have conspired against them. This deduction he makes from the number of excuses he receives at his desk daily.

Despite the warm weather and the irritable tempers that are supposed to accompany it, Police Chief James Anderson declares those who pay the fines do so, as a general rule, in the height of good nature.

"Well," they will say, "Here's my dollar for a share of stock in the police department." Or, "One more payment and the place is mine."

"They realize," the chief said, "that by enforcing the traffic regulations in Birmingham the streets are made safer for them. They also agree, as a rule, that if there were no limit placed on the time allowed for parking, they themselves never would have a chance to park their car."

THEATERS

CASS
The beautiful Cass Theater will open its doors this Sunday night, Sept. 11th, offering the novel musical comedy of Broadway, "White Lights." The production is sponsored by James La Penna, who has provided a cast of unusual strength, including Sam Ash, Leo Donnelly, Rosalie Claire, Marion Marchante, James S. Barrett, Tammany Young, James Steiger, Robert Lynn, J. Harry Jenkins, Molly O'Donerty, Gordon, and King, Dorothy Deeder Austin and a beauty chorus of unique specialists.

"White Lights" comes to Detroit direct from Philadelphia, traveling by special train in order to reach here for the Sunday night opening. It is a new offering from the pens of J. Fred Custer and Paul Gerard Smith, built with and idea to carry to the public certain incidents and high spots of Broadway life and is credited with being unique and novel in construction. It is generously studded with hitting and dashing musical numbers which should be given unusual interpretation by a cast of principals and girls—the latter selected for their personal pulchritude and ability to dance and sing.

The policy of the Cass will be as in the past, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

RANDOM DOINGS of a Random World

When a bee parked on her ankle, Miss Alice Watson of Sparanville, S. C., lost control of her car, which overturned and slightly injured a child passenger.

Attempting suicide, Andrew Kunderski of Newark thoughtfully held his head out the window when he hit his throat, so to avoid staining the carpet.

"Pretty Baby," a Scotch poodle owned by Mrs. Charles Waite of Columbus, O., is mothering two little chickens.

An automobile driven by Charles Thompson near Trinidad, Colo., was struck by lightning and the five passengers were stunned, but not injured.

The Commander $1495

One owner says: "If The Commander had claws it could climb trees!"

The Commander offers a new type of performance. It cannot be described in 1500 words, but 15 minutes on the road will convince you that The Commander is the "greatest post-war achievement of automotive engineering."

The Commander is the only enclosed car that ever traveled 5000 miles in less than 5000 minutes. It is the same powerful motor that established an average of 17 1/2 miles to the gallon in 61 nation-wide gasoline tests.

Equalled in rated horsepower by only 7 American cars which cost from $4000 to $10,000, The Commander is unequalled in value at its new One-Profit price of $1495.

More than $100 in extra equipment, including front and rear bumpers, shock absorbers, etc.

Take the wheel of a Commander—let the car itself convince you as it has thousands of others.

$100 worth of extra equipment without extra cost
All Studebaker models have more than $100 worth of extra equipment, including front and rear bumpers, shock absorbers; engine thermometer and hydrostatic gasoline gauge on the dash; and coincidental lock to ignition and steering. Equipment also includes 4-wheel brakes; disc wheels; full-size balloon tires no-drift ventilating windshield exclusively Studebaker's oil filter absorbers; engine thermometer and automatic windshield cleaner; rear-view mirror; rear traffic signal light; cow lights and two-beam score headlights, controlled from steering wheel.
