for Prosecutor

NORMAN C. ORR

Republican Ticket

Mr. Orr's History

A member of the prosecutor's staff of Oakland County since 1925 and at present first assistant prosecuting attorney; is a candidate on the Republican Ticket for the office of prosecuting attorney. His candidacy comes as a result of the urging of his many friends in the county who are aware of his exceptional record in office.

Mr. Orr is 32 years old. Many of these years have been spent in the county. With his wife and children he lives in Big Beaver, in Troy Township.

Mr. Orr's intelligence and fairness have distinguished him since he came into the limelight after taking public office. His brilliance in prosecuting cases has given him a name that is respected throughout the state in legal circles. His persistence in prosecuting criminals has earned for him the regard of all honest members of society and has helped rid Oakland County of crime.

Mr. Orr's statement is typical of him. He says, merely, "I promise only to administer the duties of the prosecutor's office to the greatest extent of my ability with the end of making Oakland County unsafe for law breakers and safe for honest citizens."

A man with Mr. Orr's record, his intelligence and honesty, is truly deserving of the office he seeks.

may the next time. If the state legislature will winter pass such a law, though its members do not see, its duty to the state will have been well performed.—Elton Eaton in Northville (Mich.) ord.

New York, N. Y.—Personal and confidential.

Marshall Neelan talked so long to his wife, Blanche Sweet, on the transatlantic radiophone that his bill was $100. Another reason why Mary Pickford doesn't care whether she makes any more pictures; a lot in Los Angeles she bought six years ago for $7,300 is now priced at over $200,000. Eric von Stroheim is likely to direct Gloria Swanson in her next, and save her from slipping further into oblivion.

Talmadge is seriously talked of as leading woman to John Barrymore in "The Last of Mrs. Cheney," John's first in modern clothes in a long while.

Samuel Goldwyn's sales staff complained that it wouldn't be able to sell "A Tale of Two Cities" to the theatres because it was a costume play, so Ronald Colman is going to start in it. Nancy Carroll doesn't look good but she's married and has a son. The financial backer of Rex Ingram's "Alice Terry" is a new motion picture company, with a studio in France, is Vincent Astor.

A survey of 479 leading actors, directors, writers and executives under contract to Hollywood producers, reveals that in proportion Massachusetts has contributed the most talent to the movies. The best villains are from Missouri; that's the home state of Wallace Beery, Fred Kohler and William Powell.

John Chaney has most of his dough invested in apple ranches. Margaret Mann, the mother in "Four Sons," becomes a star in "Nobody's Children." Nancy Kingston, niece of Doris, is being given a trial in the movies. Betsy Lee is the most successful name change in Imagene Steifel, Reginald Denny's fiancée. Louis Wolheim used to be professor of mathematics at Cornell. Adolph Menjou's college

A Few Good Desserts

To Avoid monotony in dessert making, the following may be used:

Butterscotch Pudding—Melt one cupful of brown sugar and two tablespoons of butter, until brown but not burned, pour over the mixture two cupfuls of boiling milk and simmer until the sugar is dissolved. Meanwhile, work thick slice of bread in cold water until soft, press all the water out of it, add the yolks of two eggs, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour into a well buttered baking dish and bake in a pan of water for 45 minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, add two teaspoonfuls of powdered sugar and the juice of half a lemon; beat again, spread over the pudding and brown in a moderate oven. Serve with apricot.

Baked Apple Tarts—Cook apples until tender in syrup, but soft enough to lose their shape, roll out rich pastry over into squares large enough to wrap an apple. Brush the tops with water and dredge with sugar. Bake until well browned. Serve with a spoonful of hard sauce piped on the top of each. Pass the syrup that was left also.

Graham Pudding—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add one-half cupful of molasses, the same of milk, one egg, one and one-half cupfuls of graham flour, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of sugar and one-half cupful of raisins. Mix and steam in a buttered mold two and one-half hours. Serve with apricot.

Caramel Pudding—Boil together one cupful of brown sugar and one-half cupful of water until it boils. Dissolve one-fourth of a box of gelatin in enough water to cover, add to the syrup, then when cool fold in three beaten egg whites and pour into cups to cool. The white comes to the top, the brown goes to the bottom. Serve with a custard made from the egg yolks, two cupfuls of milk, sugar and flavoring.

MAKE IT LIFE

Police officers, judges and crime commissions are having much to say about crime and how to end it. They advise every theory under the sun. Some are good and some mere puff.

The one and again the Record editor has pointed out a way to END crime in Michigan. The remedy is so easy, and it will be effective that within six months time from its adoption, Michigan will be regarded as one of the cleanest states in the union. And it will not be necessary to hang or electrocute anyone in order to bring it about.

That Michigan has got to do to end a very great portion of the high crimes within its boundaries is to pass a law making it mandatory for judges to impose life sentence upon every person found guilty of a capital offense, but if a firearm of any kind, such as a sawed-off shotgun, or machine gun is found in the possession of a person or proven to have been in his possession during the commission of a crime, that person should also receive a life sentence.

All discretionary powers should be taken out of the hands of judges in connection with the im-
