Local Baseball Team Gets Long End Of 22-4 Score

CROWD	SEES	GAME

More than 400 people witnessed the Birmingham Merchants' game played at Kensington park Sunday afternoon by a score of 22-4. The villagers, demonstrating a good brand of baseball, led out in the first inning with eight runs, and thereafter laid charge to themselves. The Detroiters' markers were made in the sixth and eighth innings, two runs coming through at each time at bat. Following the first chapter sport, Birmingham relaxed a bit. They scored twice in the second inning and piled up the remainder of their runs in the last four innings.

Birmingham ran wild in hitting everybody giving the home side a trip at some time. The policemen on the other hand were unable to hit Smith village, hitting for more than the scattered hits. The village's campers are now showing themselves as a formidable crew. The Birmingham Merchants will play the Oxford baseball team at Kensington Park this evening.

"Lazarus" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 29. Among the conditions which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Conscience your faults one to another and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." (James 5:16)

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We walk in the footsteps of Faith and Love by following the example of the Master in the understandings of divine metaphysics. Christianity is the basis of the healing. Whatever holds human thought in line with inharmoniousness, directly the divine power," (p. 192).

Huge "Dinosaur" Breaks Loose On Woodward Avenue

"Baecyrus," a gigantic modern dinosaur, broke loose last Friday at 5 p. m. on the Woodward avenue hill at Harmon avenue and caused considerable difficulty for the masters as well as breaking a electric trolley pole, pulling down numerous trolley wires, and breaking a section of curbing. After much shouting and sawing, combined with the efforts of a D. U. R. working car, the 60-ton monster, 45 ft. long, was once again the captive of mankind.

The laborious progress of the crane marked "Baecyrus" toward the trailer by a truck through Birmingham came to stop at the foot of the Woodward hill when the brakes on the trailer failed to slow it enough to descend the hill safely. Its advance became more rapid from the truck failed to slow it enough to descend the hill safely. Its advance became more rapid from the truck failed to slow it enough to descend the hill safely.

Traffic quickly piled up in both directions and saw policemen were necessary to maintain order. The out-of-control interferences were able to force the broken trolley by coasting down hill but those going north were impeded by the crane. Fight cars were lined up before the crane again resumed its journey.

The crane belonged to the White construction company of Detroit and was being hauled by the Turner Cartage and Storage company.
