SLIPPERY ROAD CAUSES WRECK

Detroit Injured As Auto Skids in Bloomfield Hills Village

Charles Beaudin, 3016 west Kirby avenue, Detroit, is recovering today from injuries received when his auto was struck by a machine driven by Mrs. Grace Carron, 230 Tasmania avenue, Pontiac, last week, at Woodward avenue and the Lone Pine road in Bloomfield Hills village. Slippery pavements caused the accident, according to police.

Mrs. Carron attempted to pass another car and skidded into the machine driven by Mr. Beaudin, police say. Mr. Beaudin's car was practically demolished by the crash and he was severely cut and bruised but was able to return to his home after receiving first aid treatment.

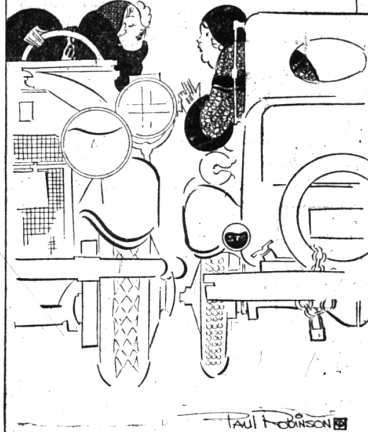

FIRE ON ROOF CAUSES DAMAGE

Fire, Saturday at 11:35 a. m., on the roof of the residence of R. M. Hoofnagle, 408 Sun street, caused by sparks from the chimney, did damage estimated at $25. The Birmingham fire department extinguished the blaze.

Jack Wilson, township highway commissioner: "The recent unpleasant experience of people in Bloomfield Township who were 'snowed in' during a heavy storm should not be repeated after the purchase by the township of road equipment. We feel now that all roads will be cleared within a short time after a severe storm."

How to Achieve Beauty
By Mme. Helena Rubinstein

The Astringent and Refining Lotions

Practically every woman, after she has reached thirty, needs an astringent lotion to keep her skin firm, and many younger women need one if their skin is at all coarse-textured.

The purpose of an astringent is to tighten. Since many of the skin defects, enlarged pores, loose, flabby tissue, even lines and wrinkles, are due in large part to relaxation, the astringents or tighteners are an extremely important part of one's beauty equipment.

The most generally used astringents are finishing lotions. You use them after you have cleansed your face with cream, to close the pores and at the same time leave a nice surface for make-up. Many conservative women make their astringent lotion takes the place of a powder base. A coarse-pored, heavy skin needs a lotion with quite slight astringent qualities. The fine-textured skin should use a lotion only mildly astringent, and with lubricating qualities that will serve as a protection against fine lines and wrinkles.

Besides the astringent lotions, there are strong astringent balsams that are used especially for tightening relaxed muscular tissue and flabby sections on your face. They are patted in on the flabby or relaxed spots until they are absorbed. These muscle and tissue tightening balsams are especially valuable for correcting double chin, flabbiness on the face and neck, or puffiness under the eyes. They are of jelly-like consistency and are easily absorbed into the skin.

There are lotions that combine astringent with other qualities. There are even refining lotions that close the pores, reduce excessive oiliness and correct redness of the nose. An astringent lotion that is particularly popular with men is one which instantly removes shine from nose or cheeks and leaves an attractive finish. This is also used to great deal by women victims of excessive oiliness to escape "shiny nose."

Many women like to use an astringent lotion that has cleansing properties for quick day-time cleaning up in the hot weather. I know many business women who always have an astringent, skin-toning lotion on hand in their offices, so that they can keep their complexions neat without resorting to water.

For a pure astringent, one that will serve to refine enlarged pores with hazel is a good home remedy.
