The Diary of a New Yorker

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Eccentric

New York—Broadway is never without its "Big Spender." The gentleman who fills the role, currently, is Frederick Perry, visiting agent for the American-patrolled resorts in Cuba.

Like the famous Diamond Jim Brady, he thinks it's lots of fun being a sucker if you can afford it. The way he is flinging money around is the talk of Times Square.

This block is better known as Striver's Row ("You have to strive to get there, and you have to strive to stay there.") It is the Park avenue of Harlem's negro aristocracy.

Harry Hershfield reports that a merchant in Rivington street sweeps recent all-incoming weddings, and after the honeymoon is over goes ground and buys up the duplicates at his own price.

P. B. K. SOCIETY CHANGES IDEAL

The Phi Beta Kappa Society, for a century and a half a symbol of intellectual achievement, has recently been reported to have changed its ideal into a more practical one.

Hitherto this scholarly organization has held aloof from any direct participation in problems besetting the college and secondary schools. Now, according to Dr. Oscar M. Voorhees, Secretary of the United Chapters and editor of the Phi Beta Kappa Key, "a radically new method of operation is under way."

"The influence of Phi Beta Kappa has hitherto been largely indirect," said Dr. Voorhees recently. "Now it proposes to exert a direct influence upon the thought and psychology of the whole student body. It does not propose to force its purposes upon every institution, nor to ask schools to change their methods. It wishes simply for an opportunity to supplement by a national procedure what is being done locally."

"Phi Beta Kappa will endeavor to encourage the whole school population to adopt a healthy attitude toward scholarly achievements. It feels that the attitude taken at the entrance upon school work and life work has much to do with personal progress. Groups will be urged to make reputations for their schools as outspoken advocates of scholarship, just as athletic teams try to win glory for their alma maters."

"In some extent Phi Beta Kappa will endeavor to correct the false idea, quite prevalent, that intellectual attainments are unimportant. By reason of the spread of chapters and organization of Phi Beta associations in all cities, the fraternity is developing a means of directing student minds along channels of wisdom and beauty."

Thomas Chiswell of Kansas City, who died at 79, had married three sisters, the third surviving him.

Isaac Bressler, 15, of New York, lost in Russia for five years, was recently found and identified by an extra finger on one hand.

When J. W. McFarland, 82, of Horse Cave, Ky., yawned he dislocated both jaw-bones, and a little later he died from the shock.

Earhart Ward of Chicago, engaged by Mrs. E. J. Tempest because he was recommended as an "ideal butler," decamped with $7,500 worth of jewelry.

BOOM SEEN IN DODGE SALE

Birmingham Realtor Expects General Prosperity To Follow Chrysler's Purchase

"The posing of Dodge Brothers Motor Car company into the hands of Walter P. Chrysler and the Chrysler Motor Car company means a great deal to the real estate interest of Detroit and the surrounding territory," said Charles E. Buck, of the real estate firm of Colgrove, Buck & Thibault.

"Mr. Chrysler has proved himself one of the geniuses of the motor car industry."

"It is that rare combination of whole-hearted manufacturer, financier, promoter and salesman which seldom comes wrapped up in a single human anatomy, and with the control of Dodge Brothers passing into the hands of a man who, not only knows manufacturing, but knows the American public, and has the confidence of the financial world, it means that the outlook for properties and payoffs dependent upon the Dodge factory was never as bright as it is today."

"With Detroit primarily a manufacturing city, the success of every large corporation not only affects the real estate, but every other line of industry, and this new move is bound to have a stabilizing effect on all classes of business."

MISSIONARY EXHIBIT TO BE AT CONVENTION

One of the great features of the coming Northern Baptist convention meeting at the Masonic Temple, Detroit, June 16 to 21, will be the missionary and educational exhibits in the great drill hall of the Temple.

At these colorful booths there will be missionaries from nearly every field in the world. A trip through the missionary labyrinth will be like a trip through the mission fields, as the missionaries at each of the booths representing each of the nations will be dressed in the native costumes and show many curios from their respective countries. It is estimated that years have been required to gather all the interesting things that will be shown.

It is expected parents and Sunday school teachers will organize and conduct groups of children to see the missionary exhibits. It is expected that at least 50 registered visitors in addition to the registered delegates will represent the Birmingham Baptist Church at the convention when it opens its sessions Saturday morning.
