No organization can continue to live without the general approval of the buyers in a community. Without this approval a business must die early in its career. It must in this day and age, offer the maximum in service, consideration to that public's needs, honesty in every transaction and alertness to the pulse of buyer's habits.

We have attempted in these past five years to qualify to the approval of Birmingham's patronage. We have grown and trust to continue this growth. We are truly grateful for your patronage during these years. In announcing this sale we hope that you will interpret our offerings of specially priced merchandise as an acknowledgment of this appreciation.
