

TENNIS MEN DOWN PONTIAC

Stellar Games Bring Villagers Out On Top Of Hard Fought Battle

The Birmingham Tennis club defeated the Pontiac club players in the first of the village's home matches, Sunday afternoon on the club courts on Lincoln avenue. Four singles and two double-matches were played, of which Birmingham dropped one single and one double match, the score being 4-2.

A. Hartwell of Birmingham was pitted against M. Slater of Pontiac in one of the most interesting of the matches. The two played a driving game playing most of the shots near the baseline. Hartwell conquered by the score of 6-2 and 11-9, the last set was drawn far into duce both determined to edge out a win.

R. Hulbert downed G. Hawn, in two sets, 7-5 and 6-2. The youth's swift driving proved no match for the older man's consistent placements. M. Neff was forced to accept defeat from R. Clark after winning the first set, the records were 6-4, 4-6 and 3-6. In the other singles tourney W. Blythe outplayed T. Woodell to triumph, 6-3 and 6-4.

In the doubles contests Clark and Slater upset N. Shattuck and Neff, 6-4 and 6-4. The Pontiac duo worked well together to down the Birmingham players. Woodell and Hawn, after winning their first set, were vanquished by W. Murray and T. Parker 2-6, 6-4, and 6-4.

This was the first of the home matches, which are scheduled by the tennis team. The Birmingham club has a well-rounded team with strong players for both singles and doubles. The Sunday match points favorably toward future success as the season is not far advanced and the playing was good.

The floor area of the combined Oakland and Pontiac Six factories in Pontiac—3,370,191 square feet—is equal to 32 miles of 20-foot highway.

HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

Why do some automobiles use less oil than others, even though they may be of the same make and type?

The question puzzles many a motorist, summer and winter, despite the columns of information that are written annually on this one subject alone.

The answer, almost invariably, is—the drivers are so different!

This matter of oil is only one of many features in the modern automobile that depends, to a great extent, on the driver. The car will live a short life if the motor isn't watched carefully, the body isn't kept tight and neat and all moving parts kept free from dirt and friction as much as possible. Fuel consumption alone is an important consideration and depends much on the driver.

Oil wears down with use and must be replaced if the motor is to be saved from rapid, undue wear. The cautious driver therefore has his oil checked up every time he has his gasoline tank filled. It costs nothing and is a precaution well worth taking.

The oil-measuring rod shows not only how much oil is in the crankcase, but how good that oil is. If the oil is thin down the mixture for warm weather, it is a sign that the engine happens to be "gasoline milled" and has seeped down the cylinder to become diluted.

BANKER TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Confidence In Financial Men Urged By Detroit Speaker Here

Ben Vernor, of the Merchants National Bank of Detroit, as the guest of Rotarian Tom Neal, was the speaker at the local Rotary club Monday noon at the Chapman Tea Room. Mr. Vernor's talk was on "Banking and the Public."

He declared that a bank, banking it does other people's money, considers three things essential to credit: they are character, capacity and capital. "Character," he said, "is something that an individual creates for himself, just as he does his capacity or ability. These two essentials to credit, with a bank are human elements, and must be weighed very heavily in making a loan. Capital, of course, is a tangible asset, something which a banker may easily determine, capital is always considered in making a loan, but a large capital is not always necessary to obtain a loan when the prospective borrower has character and capacity."

Not getting exactly what you want at a bank is hardly a test of that bank, believes Mr. Vernor. Goodness in which the human element plays so large a part may sometimes present a situation wherein a bank may be better to make a specific loan, even though the intended borrower may have all the apparent qualifications to obtain a loan; a good way to estimate such possibilities is to make of your banker your confidant in all phases of your own business, even though you do not seek a loan very often, he said.

"Friendships and friendly understandings go a long way toward obtaining the confidence of your banker who, after all, plays a part in modern business that is analogous to the part played by physicians in the realm of health," concluded Mr. Vernor.

SLEEPING IN CAR CAUSES ARREST

Pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness, two Flint men paid fines of $20 each Monday in Justice Floyd S. Buck's court rather than take the alternative of 10 days in jail.

Both were arrested by Bloomfield Hills police who testified they found the men asleep in an automobile on Woodward street early Monday. They gave their names as Ellis Price and James Loyd. Police did not obtain the street addresses.
