HONOR YOUTHS FROM VILLAGE

Three Gain Prizes In Annual Oakland County Achievement Exercises

Three Birmingham boys were honored at the annual Oakland County Achievement Day celebration held Saturday at the William E. Scripps farm near Orion. Champions were selected from more than 250 boys and girls of Oakland County who participated during the winter in different types of boy and girl club work. The judgment was based largely upon work done throughout the year, although some of the cham-

In the Cast

Players who will complete the casts for the three one-act plays include Laura Lynch, Bob Biggers, Elsie Richards, Joyce Packard, Hal Trump, Richard Fowler, Walter Elliott, James Oliver, Fred Farrar, Caroline Raymond, Arthur Neff, Spud Simpson, Doris Simpson, W. A. P. John, Inez Asper, Edith Bishop, C. H. Gracey, Harold F. Klein, Helen Helfferich, and Farrington Holt.

Harold Klein will be in general charge of stage direction for the Public Performances. Scenery and furnishings will be handled by a committee headed by Charles Asper.

"Hap" Ryan will have charge of the house committee, and properties will be looked after by a committee headed by Beatrice Shattuck.

Specialties

Between acts numerous specialties will be offered, including that rare treat when Birmingham's "Own Village Quartet," dressed in the rarest of costumes, delights the audience with "saddest, happiest of songs." Waldo Bellows is in charge of the specialties, and he promises the best available.

plains won their laurels in final contests held Saturday. Eleven champions were selected, the local trio winning in the handicraft group. They were: Norman Ford, second place in the first year handicraft group; Nathaniel Nichols, first in the second year group; and Forrest Daniels winner of the third year handicraft group.

The program, which began with a music memory contest and exhibits of work and games, lasted until late in the afternoon. Following the box luncheon at noon for which the farm management were hosts, serving cocoa and ice cream, the live stock of the estate was exhibited. Sidney Smith, farm manager, told of the animals and their pedigree.

Mr. Scripps welcomed the visitors. Francis Baldwin, of Oxford, was chairman for the afternoon. During the day, clothing and other sewed articles made by the girls of the group were exhibited in the Nina D. Scripps school. This display was featured by a style show. Other events of the afternoon were the health contest, hot lunch, project, handicraft and special stunts.

Come and See Your Friends!!

ONCE each year Birmingham's Village Players — an amateur theatrical organization of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills folks—opens the doors of its beautiful little theater here and invites the public to witness three of the season's best performances. The dates this year are May 17, 18 and 19.

This is an invitation to you and your family to attend.

Here you will see your friends in theatrical roles that will surprise you—as they prove their several abilities to alternately thrill you, make you laugh, and even bring into your throat an inclination to gulp as some situation is developed in pathos.

This year's Public Performance promises to eclipse those of other years; it is composed of the three best plays staged by the Players during the past season. "Jazz and Minuet" is a pretty offering, featuring romance and dainty costumes; "Son of His Father" is a clever one-act drama, bringing out several extremes of human character; "The Melancholy Dame" is a Negro specialty that will make you laugh from start to finish.

Every one of these plays has a distinct appeal to people—men, women and even the kiddies. Plan to witness this year's Public Performance on one of the three days, May 17, 18, and 19.

Make your reservation early—as only 250 tickets are to be sold for each performance.
